100 WENT ON STRIKE

Workers on Cement Storehouse
Quit, but Soon Went Back

Some 100 men employed on the top floor of the concrete warehouse being constructed for the Massachusetts mills on Bridge street went out on strike this morning. Most of the strikers are foreigners and a majority of them returned to work after they had been out for an hour or two.

The warehouse is being built by the Abertaw Construction Co. of Boston, and from one source it was stated that the strike was due to the company's refusal to pay the men 25 cents an hour. In another quarter it was stated that the men struck because the boss was ugly and overbearing. The company did not have any statement to make; at least none was obtainable as there is no admittance to the premises. The company also excluded labor leaders from its premises. Patrolman Peter McMahon was called to the building when the strike started and the officer was asked to arrest the strikers for loitering, it being stated that the strikers were wearing rubber boots belonging to the company. The officer did not see his way clear to making arrests unless warrants were produced. At 10 o'clock it was stated that everything was running smoothly again.

FUNERALS

HANNA—The funeral services of the late Alexander E. Hanna were held yesterday afternoon from his home, 1 Wellington square, and were largely attended by his relatives and his many friends. Rev. Julius P. West, pastor of the Highland Methodist church, conducted the services. Appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. Charles S. Young, including "Sometime We'll Understand," "When the Mists Have Rolled Away," and "Christ's Good Night." The floral offerings were profuse, including a large pillow inscribed "Father and Mother," from the family; bank inscribed "Son and Brother," from family; inscribed "Brother," from Mr. and Mrs. Charles West; and Mrs. William H. Saunders, and a spray of white flowers from Miss Effie Morrison; spray of white pinks from brothers and sisters; bouquet of asters, from Mr. Charles Howell; spray of pink asters, from Mr. G. W. Bentley; bouquet of mixed flowers from the Blanche Piper; double spray of white and pink asters, from Mr. Fred C. Rogers; spray of white asters, from Mrs. F. Rogers; double spray of asters from the following: spray of asters tied with pink ribbon, from Michael Donoghue and family; spray of asters tied with pink ribbon, from Mrs. Howard and Curden; large basket of asters and ferns from Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Coughlin; and Miss A. McCarthy; spray of asters, from Mr. and Mrs. Doyle; spray inscribed "At Rest," from J. H. Allen; bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson; bouquet, Miss Hoar; bouquet, Miss Webster, and bouquet, Mrs. Wilson.

Patrolman Peter McMahon was called to the building when the strike started and the officer was asked to arrest the strikers for loitering, it being stated that the strikers were wearing rubber boots belonging to the company. The officer did not see his way clear to making arrests unless warrants were produced. At 10 o'clock it was stated that everything was running smoothly again.

ROBINSON—The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Robinson took place Wednesday afternoon from her residence, 80 Lawrence street, and was largely attended. There were many beautiful floral offerings. The services were conducted by Rev. Joseph L. Seward of Keene, N. H., formerly pastor of the Unitarian church of this city, and the temple quartet sang "Lord, Kindly Light," "Christ's Good Night," and "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The bearers were Ralph Brazier, Dr. Leonard Huntress, Gardner Wills, Henry Fay and Mr. Cahill. Edward E. Spalding had charge of the arrangements and the burial was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery, under the direction of Undertaker J. B. Currier Co.

MCCARTHY—The funeral of Alice McCarthy took place Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 from the home of her parents, Charles and Mary McCarthy, 29 Centre street. Burial took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, in and pink asters, from Mr. Fred C. Rogers; spray of white asters, from Mrs. F. Rogers; double spray of asters from the following: spray of asters tied with pink ribbon, from Michael Donoghue and family; spray of asters tied with pink ribbon, from Mrs. Howard and Curden; large basket of asters and ferns from Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Coughlin; and Miss A. McCarthy; spray of asters, from Mr. and Mrs. Doyle; spray inscribed "At Rest," from J. H. Allen; bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson; bouquet, Miss Hoar; bouquet, Miss Webster, and bouquet, Mrs. Wilson.

DUFFY—The funeral of James H. Duffy took place this morning at 8 o'clock from his late home, 9 Fulton street, and proceeded to St. Michael's church, where at 9 o'clock a funeral mass was sung. Rev. Fr. Shaw officiated. The choir under the direction of Thomas Boulger sang the Gregorian mass. Miss Carolyn White presided at the organ. The bearers were William Burns, John Maher, James J. McCausland, Edward Morris, Michael Cashman and Emil Lavigne. Interment was in St. Patrick's cemetery. Rev. Fr. Murphy reading the committal prayers. The floral tributes were the following: Large pillow inscribed "Husband," from wife of deceased; pillow inscribed "Brother," from family; cross on base, inscribed "At Rest," Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Duffy; cross on base, with inscription "At Rest," Mr. and Mrs. Martin Duffy; cross inscribed "Rest," Mr. Wilson and family; large cross with "Farewell," inscribed on base, P. Murphy and family; large wreath on base, inscribed "Rest," John H. McKeown; cross on base from friends; wreath, Cashman family; wreath, Sullivan family; wreath, Barker and Monahan; bouquet of cut flowers, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelley; sprays, Mrs. Young, Mrs. P. Furlong, Mr. and Mrs. J. Moore, Martin Sheehan and family; Mrs. M. Murphy, Mrs. Gann and daughter, Miss Nellie Sullivan, Misses Sarah and Charlotte McCausland, Frank and William Morrissey, Mr. and Mrs. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Michael O'Brien, Miss E. McNabb, William J. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Elley, Misses Sarah and Jessie Moore, Miss May Green, Quinn family and Edward and Margaret Callahan.

WORKMAN DROWNED

Abraham Goldman Stepped Into Canal in Massachusetts Yard

ABRAHAM GOLDMAN FALLS TO HIS DEATH IN CANAL
(The lower sketch shows a fellow-workman plunging in to his rescue.)

Workmen Jumped In to Rescue Him, but Were Unable, Owing to the Swift Current and the Covering Over Canal

Abraham Goldman, a bricklayer employed on the new mill that is being built over the canal in Merrimack square, was drowned in the canal shortly before eight o'clock this morning. Goldman was walking on a plank that stretched from one girder to another and immediately over the canal. Two of his fellow workmen jumped into the canal after him but failed to rescue him. Goldman carried a bricklayer's tool bag and level and instead of making any attempt at swimming or assisting himself in any way he clung to the bag and the level. He was about 35 years old, and lived, it was stated, in Howard street.

The men who tried to rescue him went home to change their clothing and none of the spectators seemed to know their names.

The hole into which he stepped was not over four feet square. It seems if he had been watching where he was going he might have caught the timber as he fell and saved himself. But he had his tool bag in his hand and he did not attempt to grasp anything as he went down.

Funeral services will be held at 48 Forest street Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Friends are invited without further notice. Burial will take place at Dunstable, Mass. Please omit flowers. The funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

USED A BOTTLE

Michael Boland Fined for Assault

"Hitting a man with a bottle is a dangerous practice," remarked Judge Hadley as he fined Michael A. Boland, charged with assault on Thomas H. Moran last Saturday night. Both live in Gorham street and the assault grew out of a neighborhood row concerning one of Boland's children. Moran, who showed an ugly looking gash in his forehead, said that on Saturday night Boland threatened to get out a warrant for him and he told him to go and get it. Later he met Boland, who was carrying a package containing several bottles of porter, and he asked him if he got the warrant. Boland, he said, without further provocation, took one of the bottles from the package and "swatted" him on the forehead. Then they clinched. Boland claimed that before using the bottle Moran struck him in the jaw, kicked his hat into the street and otherwise ill treated him. But Moran's wife said Boland struck first, as did another witness, while Officer Farley, who made the arrest, said that Boland was drunk and that Moran was sober. Boland was found guilty. Edward Flizette, aged 16 years, wanted to go to Boston and enlist in the navy and not liking the shabby appearance of his own clothing entered the room of his friend, John J. Campbell, in Middlesex street, while Campbell was away, and swapped suits with him, taking Campbell's best wearing apparel and leaving the hand-me-downs behind. Upon his return Officer Clark nailed him with the goods on his back. He explained that after joining the navy he intended to return the clothing. The court continued the case until tomorrow and an effort will be made to get him into the navy although there is doubt, owing to his youth.

Only one drunk was sentenced. James O'Malley was the victim and he was sent to jail for four months. Half a dozen others were fined.

DIED IN BOSTON

Adjutor Paquin Stricken While at Work

Adjutor Paquin, aged 29 years, whose home is at 78 Salem street, died suddenly in Boston yesterday afternoon. He was employed as a roofer by the Boston and Maine railroad and while at work on a roof in East Boston at 8:30 o'clock was stricken down by the bursting of a blood vessel in his head. He was taken to the East Boston Relief hospital where he died at 8:40. He was the son of George Paquin of Salem street. The remains were brought to this city this afternoon by Undertaker Joseph Albert.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. John J. Madden and Miss Mary E. Flynn took place yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in the chapel at the parochial residence of the immaculate Conception church. Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. I., was the officiating clergyman. The best man was Mr. Stephen Slattery and the bridesmaid Miss Maude Carter. The bride looked charming in a beautiful gown of white silk, trimmed with point d'esprit lace. She carried white roses. The bride was attended in a pretty gown of lemon color silk with lace trimmings and carried sweet peas. After the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Flynn, 420 Rogers street. The gifts to the bride and groom were both numerous and beautiful. They included a costly dining room set from the parents of the bride, and a three-piece mission parlor set from the Misses Annie and Helen O'Donnell of Manchester street, and Miss Sadie Sullivan of Waverest, cousins of the bride. In embracing her married life, Mr. and Mrs. Madden have the best wishes of a host of friends. After a wedding trip in which they will visit New York and Washington, they will make their home on Westford street.

AUTO POLICE PATROL

Contract Awarded to the Thomas Co. of Buffalo

The E. R. Thomas company of Buffalo, N. Y., has been awarded the contract for the auto police patrol. The award was made today and the machine is to be delivered within 75 days from date of contract, ready. It will require two or three days to prepare the contract. The cost of the machine will be $5600, but the company states in a note accompanying the specifications that the regular price of the machine is $6750, and that the price is reduced in order to get the Thomas machine introduced here. The Thomas people were the only ones to live up to the rules governing the submission of bids, and, as a matter of fact, their car was the only one to meet the requirements. A full set of drawings and a complete set of specifications accompanied the $500 check of the Thomas company. The call of the purchasing agent was for a machine of 50 horse power. The Thomas machine will generate 72½ horse power. It will have six cylinders and a wheel base of 144½ inches. It will have a speed capacity of 60 miles an hour. The contract for the auto patrol was awarded the Thomas company after the company's specifications had been gone over carefully by the mayor, the purchasing agent and superintendent of police.

ANOTHER DEATH

Child Was Sick With Typhoid Fever Only Short Time

The second death from the present typhoid fever epidemic was reported at the office of the board of health this forenoon. The victim was a child, four years old. The case was reported three days ago and the child had been sick one week before the notice was received at the office of the board of health. The house in which the child died is a tenement house and extraordinary precautions will be taken. In addition to the ordinary sanitation, the plumbing will be disinfected and blood tests will be made from the other occupants of the house. The doctors say that while the fever has spread itself quite thoroughly the attack is not a very severe one.

The total number of cases reported at the office of the board of health up to the noon hour today numbered 63, and 35 of the 63 cases, the board said, were directly traceable to the milkman who was ordered some days ago to suspend business.

Mrs. Martin and Huntress and Agent Bates of the board held a conference at city hall this forenoon and, among other things, decided to allow the milkman who met with a temporary suspension of business to go ahead and do business. The milkman's cows, of which he has 50, were never under suspicion. An outside supply was repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Flynn, 420 Rogers street. The gifts to the bride and groom were both numerous and beautiful. They included a costly dining room set from the parents of the bride, and a three-piece mission parlor set from the Misses Annie and Helen O'Donnell of Manchester street, and Miss Sadie Sullivan of Waverest, cousins of the bride. In embracing her married life, Mr. and Mrs. Madden have the best wishes of a host of friends. After a wedding trip in which they will visit New York and Washington, they will make their home on Westford street.

The North Chelmsford man whose milk was really responsible for the trouble, though through no fault of his, will be allowed to resume business providing the tests made today prove negative. The man himself is at the hospital with typhoid fever.

After tracing 35 cases to the milk delivered by one milkman the board looked about for another centre of infection. There were 26 more milk routes and the board found not more than two cases on any of the 26 routes except in one instance and in this instance the route had changed hands. There were two cases before and two cases after the change was made and two of the four cases could be attributed to outside causes. One was that of a man who had been at the beach and who had lived in a house where there was a typhoid fever patient. The other man came home from Lynn, Me. He had been in Lynn two weeks.

The board's inspectors are making a thorough investigation of the milk route in question. They are looking up the milkman's source of supply and thus far they have found everything in top shape. They have yet two hours to examine and they will report upon them today.

The fact that one or two cases of typhoid fever are found on a whole milk route does not indicate that the milk is responsible for the trouble and, in view of the fact that not more than two cases, with the exception just mentioned, were found on any one route, the board feels that it is justified in its decision and stating that the board is in its endeavor to discover the cause of the trouble. In this event the cause has been removed and the epidemic must have pretty nearly reached its high water mark.

The spread of the disease has aroused the activity of the doctors throughout the city, and long before the noon hour today 17 tests had been brought in to the office of the board of health. At this stage of the game the doctor who has a patient showing any considerable fever makes a blood test and that is the way to find out if the fever is there.

Mrs. Martin and Huntress of the Lowell board of health, in the course of their conference today, took occasion to speak of the willing and able cooperation of the Chelmsford board of health in investigating into the cause of the typhoid fever epidemic. It was necessary, in the case of the infected supply in North Chelmsford, for the local board to work through the Chelmsford board. They spoke highly of the assistance rendered by Dr. Vanney of the Chelmsford board of health.

ONE MAN KILLED ARRESTED TELLER

Another Seriously Injured in Bank Official Charged With the Grade Crossing Accident Larceny of $173,000

WALTHAM, Sept. 15.—Louis Liberman, aged 21, was killed and Jacob Nussbaum, seriously injured and William Norton, a gateman, was placed under arrest as the result of a grade crossing accident in this city shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Liberman was employed as a driver by Simon Carter, a local junk dealer, and Nussbaum as a helper.

The accident occurred on the Elm street crossing, 200 feet east of the station on the Pittsburg division of the B. & M. railroad.

The express, in charge of Conductor Johnson, out of Boston at 2.45 and due in this city at 3.04, struck the junk wagon in charge of Liberman and Nussbaum. The wagon was heavily loaded with baled rags, being carted to the freight sheds for shipment.

Liberman driving the wagon and Nussbaum on the seat with him approached the crossing from Carter street. Seeing the gates up the men started to cross the tracks. Just as the train got fairly on the crossing the express came upon them. The men had no opportunity to jump nor did the engineer have time to stop his train, and the engine struck the wagon amidships, hurling men, horse, wagon and rags in all directions.

Liberman, who was unconscious when picked up, was placed in an express wagon and taken at once to the hospital. He died before reaching there. His skull was fractured and he was badly cut and bruised.

Nussbaum was thrown onto the grass plot just east of the depot and lay there in a dazed condition until Dr. H. C. Wood arrived. He took the man to the hospital. It could not be determined last night how seriously Nussbaum was injured.

Officer Acts Quickly

The horse was thrown across the tracks and landed on its back on the east bound track. The animal was bleeding badly from the mouth, but it was later helped to its feet and led to Mr. Carter's barn on Felton street. The wagon was demolished. The rags were scattered all over the tracks for some distance.

Among the first to reach the scene of the accident was Inspector William P. McKenna. After making a number of inquiries he placed Gateman Norton under arrest and took him to the station.

There were a number of eye witnesses to the accident and every one of them agree that the gates were high in the air at the time the wagon was struck. One man said that Norton was asleep at the time and was awakened when the engine struck the wagon.

The police say that Norton told conflicting stories, and his appearance indicated, they say, that he had been drinking. They assert he first said the CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—George W. Fitzgerald, a former assistant teller in the Chicago Federal sub-treasury, was arrested yesterday by deputy U. S. marshals charged with the theft of $173,000 which mysteriously disappeared from the Chicago sub-treasury on February 19, 1907.

Fitzgerald was arrested on a bench warrant, based on an indictment returned secretly by a federal grand jury on February 17, 1910. The fact of the indictment was suppressed until yesterday. Three days after the indictment was secretly returned, it was announced that the statute of limitations operated to stop possible criminal action in the case.

Coincidentally with this case, secret service men were detailed to watch Fitzgerald constantly, and to make a rigid investigation of the former teller's financial interests and affairs. The discoveries made by these detectives resulted in the order for Fitzgerald's arrest.

Fitzgerald was taken into custody at his insurance brokerage offices in La Salle street, just as the former sub-treasury teller was leaving for home.

Fitzgerald was first taken to United States Marshal Hoy's office where he was searched. He was then handcuffed and pinned in a cell. Fitzgerald objected to the search and was handled somewhat roughly by the marshals. After an hour's imprisonment Fitzgerald was taken before Judge K. J. Landis. He was formally arraigned and his bail was fixed at $50,000. Being unable to give bond in this sum, he was taken to jail.

Attaches of the district attorney's office declare that since the disappearance of the $173,000 from the sub-treasury, Fitzgerald has done the following things:

Organized the Illinois Car Manufacturing company, with a $50,000 plant at Hammond, Ind.

Organized the Illinois Bolt, Nut & Forging Co., with a large plant in Chicago.

Dealt extensively in stocks and bonds.

Moved from a moderate flat to a $10,000 residence which he paid for and furnished expensively.

Lived in costly style, and entertained friends lavishly.

CURTIS GUILD

Gave Luncheon to the President's Cabinet

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 15.—Curtis Guild, representing the United States as special ambassador during the celebration of Mexico's centennial of independence yesterday, gave a luncheon to members of the president's cabinet, government officials, special ambassadors and commissioners and resident diplomats and ladies in the Chapultepec cafe. He assured his hearers in an address delivered in Spanish that his government sought no new territory or control, and that its greatest desire was "peace and honor" and the winning of equal honor and respect for all America in every part of the world.

Foreign Minister Enrique C. Criel responded to the sentiments expressed by Curtis Guild, thanking him in the name of his government and proposing the health of President Taft and the American nation.

President Diaz was not present, but designated Vice-President Corral to represent him.

After the luncheon, the entire party attended a musical and led prepared by Mrs. Diaz in the presidential summer palace.

A NEW TREATY

BETWEEN UNITED STATES AND CANADA IS PROPOSED

BEVERLY, Mass., Sept. 15.—Negotiations for a reciprocity treaty between the United States and Canada will be opened next month. It was learned in Beverly yesterday that the British ambassador, Mr. Bryce, has assented to the negotiations being carried on directly between Canada and the United States without the formalities of being conducted through the British embassy.

The details of the negotiations have not been arranged as yet, but it is the hope of President Taft that before the end of October the representatives of both countries will be able to come together. Whether the United States will send delegates to Canada or whether Canada will send its representatives to Washington is not yet known. Neither is it known whether any agreement that may be reached will be made effective by concurrent legislation in both countries.

The reciprocity idea will meet with considerable opposition in both countries but it is believed that the Canadian opposition is more pronounced than that in the United States, chiefly because of the growth of Canadian manufacturing enterprises. The Canadian premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, has declared in favor of the proposed agreement and it is felt here that the negotiations will be carried through to a satisfactory conclusion.

Of especial interest in this speech was the governor's final word on the subject of direct primaries:

"As for the most part our people act through political parties," he said, "it is of the highest importance to their true liberty that action within the parties should be free and both with respect to candidates and the selection of party managers, should be based on the direct vote of party members. Under our system representative government cannot be deemed to be securely based, if through complicated machinery, the selections of our great political parties are left to the determination of cabals."

Health and Beauty Queries

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

B. S. S.: Although gray hair is sometimes caused by worry, it is generally due to a diseased scalp as indicated by such symptoms as the dandruff, itching scalp and hair falling out. It is which you speak. To restore your scalp to a healthy condition, first keep it clean by shampooing every ten days or two weeks with castile soap, then massage the scalp, using a good quality hair tonic. You can prepare the tonic yourself by adding one ounce of ammonia to a half pint of water. This is much better than most ready-prepared hair tonics as it contains nothing to make the hair coarse, sticky or brittle. It will remove the dandruff and stop your hair from coming out. You will find it an ideal dressing for the hair and very refreshing to an itching scalp.

B. M. D.: (a) Do not let your superfluous flesh worry you. Even though you have spent many dollars having different so-called "flesh reducers" without any of them doing a bit of good, you want to try this one. Many friends who tell me of all wonders for them. Get four ounces of paraffin from any drug store, dissolve it in 1 1/2 pints of water, and take a tablespoonful a few minutes before each meal. It is harmless and will cut down your fat rapidly without the necessity of dieting or strenuous exercise. The good exema remedy you ask for is called Luto.

A. E. S.: To be sure, health and beauty go hand in hand. Indigestion and sluggish liver cause impure blood, which in turn breeds ugly blotches, pimples and skin eruptions, accompanied by depression, melancholia and headaches. These may be all removed by the judicious use of a simple home-made system tonic as blood purifier, made as follows: Dissolve one ounce of kaffirine and one-half cup of sugar in one-half pint of alcohol; then add enough hot water to make a full quart of the remedy. Take a tablespoonful before each meal. Kaffirine stimulates the digestion, arouses a torpid liver, purifies the blood and gives tone to the whole system. By a natural process the complexion is cleared, the "tired feeling" vanishes, and energy and enjoyment of life return.

G. E. A.: It may be all right to use dry shampoo powder when you are very crowded to brush out all of the powder; otherwise it will clog up the pores in the scalp and cause dandruff, the very thing you should avoid. To keep your hair looking bright and healthy and make it stay in curl, you must not use a shampoo that contains alkali, as soaps and most shampoos do. Dissolve a teaspoonful of cantharide in a cup of hot water and you have a shampoo that can't be excelled. It will remove all excess oil and dirt, and leave your scalp free from irritation. This shampoo dries quickly without causing streaky, faded patches in the hair. It will make your hair soft and fluffy so it will stay up and look well without the use of a hair net or veil.

Doris: If you wish to make a greaseless complexion cream jelly that will quickly clear your complexion of freckles, tan and sunburn without the necessity of several months' treatment, you can easily prepare it at home by mixing together an ounce of almonin, two teaspoonfuls glycerine and one-half pint cold water; stir briskly and let stand over night. Where applied frequently you will find this an excellent cream for removing wrinkles, blackheads, freckles, roughness and other skin blemishes. It will leave the skin smooth, clear and velvety, and is a matchless preparation for massaging and reducing the size of large pores in the skin.

Almer: I know of no exercise that will give you a well-developed, scrawny figure. To have well-developed curves you must assimilate the food you eat; have good digestion and good circulation. A splendid prescription, originated and developed by a skillful physician, contains ova testis, leeching, iron and nux vomica. This prescription, known as Druggists' name of egg-o-ova compound tablets, at $1.00 per box of 90 tablets, which is a complete two weeks' treatment, matches the health of the body and the eggs and is one of the most beneficial and expensive flesh makers known.

T. H.: Plain Delatone is the best thing I ever heard of to remove superfluous hairs from the face and forehead. It costs much less than electrolysis and is painless and requires little time. Of course, the hairs may return, but if they do they will be thin and light colored, scarcely discernible. A second or third application will rid you permanently of the annoying hairs. Delatone costs a dollar a box, but one ounce is all you will ever need. Simply mix a little Delatone with enough water to form a paste, cover the skin from the chin and forehead with the paste; let it remain two or three minutes, then wipe off and wash with warm water.

Mary F.: By devoting just a little time each day to the care of your complexion, you can ward off the marks of approaching age and have the same attractive, youthful-looking features as your younger friends. Cream for removing wrinkles and freckles (see answer to Doris) and a little of elching up the pores of your skin with face powder, get a dependably thin and light color. Use it exclusively. You can make such a lotion by buying four ounces of spumax at your drug-gist's and dissolving it in one-half pint of hot water; then add two teaspoonfuls glycerine and when cooled apply freely to your face, neck and arms. This lotion is inexpensive and ascertained as a skin beautifier. It does not rub off or show like face powder and you will find it excellent for removing that shiny, muddy look from your skin. I find it good for removing and preventing freckles, skin pimples and any unsightly skin roughness.

B. W.: If my eyes continually had that tired, overworked feeling you say yours do, I would lose no time getting a good tonic for them. My eyes are tired and I want to work and I keep them in good condition by using a simple, inexpensive remedy made by dissolving an ounce of crystals in a pint of water. A few drops in each eye occasionally will readily relieve inflammation and make one's eyes bright and sparkling. Try this and I am sure you will not need to wear glasses. It is a splendid tonic for weak, watery eyes, also granulated lids.

gates were down and that he yelled at the men. Then he said the group did not try to announce the approach of the train.

Still another story told by the prisoner, according to the officers, was to the effect that he started a fire in the shanty store and the heat made him sleepy. This is believed by the police to be the nearest to the truth, but they feel that insofar as well as the heat was responsible for his falling to note the approach of the train.

Norton had been on this crossing on and off for months and was familiar with the arrival and departure of all trains on the main line. A prominent business man came near getting caught at the same place a few weeks ago, while crossing the tracks in his auto, and it was only a miracle that he was not killed. This man entered a complaint to the effect of the road about the conditions at the crossing at that time.

Manslaughter Charged

Norton is 34 years old, unmarried, and lives on Elm street. Before entering the employ of the railroad company he was employed as a bill poster, and at one time worked as a stage hand at the local theatre. He was arraigned in the local district court this morning on a charge of manslaughter.

The crossing where the accident occurred is one of the busiest places in the city. It is located at the foot of Elm street, one of the principal thoroughfares. The freight house is just across the tracks from the crossing and hundreds of teams cross and recross it daily.

Louis Liberman, who lost his life, had been a resident of Waltham about three years, during which time he was employed by Mr. Carter. The only relative he has in this country is a sister living in Chelsea.

His body was taken to the home of Mr. Carter after the medical examiner had viewed it, and word sent to the young man's sister.

Jacob Nussbaum, who narrowly escaped death, is about 50 years old. He has been employed by Mr. Carter for some time.

ANDREAS TOMFOHRDE DYING

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Andreas Tomfohrde, the restaurant proprietor, is reported dying at his home, 44 Perkins street, Jamaica Plain. A consultation of physicians on Tuesday resulted in the announcement to Mr. Tomfohrde's family that the end might be expected at any time. He has long been a sufferer from diabetes but has been confined to his bed only during the past two or three weeks.

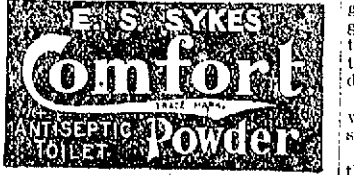

Mr. Tomfohrde, who is generally counted as one of Boston's 10 wealthiest men, first went into the restaurant business in this city in 1870, when he opened a small establishment in Court square. In 1877 he moved to the basement of 45 Court street and his property has extended until it now covers the space from 45 to 61 Court street, being one of the largest restaurants of its kind in the city.

Mr. Tomfohrde maintained an active interest in his business until about a year and a half ago, when the entire management of it was given over to Arthur P. Pearce, his son-in-law and business partner.

BRITISH TEAM WON

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The Ranelagh team of British polo players pulled a hotly contested game out yesterday by a spirited rally in the eighth period of the match for the Lazard cup played against the Rockaway four at Mr. Hazard's country place on Long Island. The superior speed of their ponies in the last two periods gave them a final score of 10 to 8, when the tally had stood 8 all.

THE DEMOCRATS

REPLY TO STATEMENTS OF REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMAN

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Congressman James M. Graham of Illinois, and Oliver James of Kentucky replied last night to the statement issued by the republican members of the Bullinger investigating committee. Graham and James wrote the opinion of the four democratic members which was given out as their report at Minneapolis last week.

The republican members of the committee met Tuesday in Chicago and charged that the democrats played politics.

Congressman Graham says: "As it appears few weeks is time enough to study the evidence and reach a conclusion on it, and their position seems inexplicable unless it be credited to political expediency."

"If Mr. Bullinger is innocent and has been unjustly assailed how utterly cruel and inhuman it is to withhold his vindication."

Mr. James says: "The statement issued by Senator Nelson and his colleagues in Chicago yesterday is only positive proof of what he saw demonstrated in Minneapolis, and that is that the republican members of the committee did not desire to make a report on the Bullinger case until after the elections."

APPOINTED LIEUTENANTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Seven young men, the honor graduates of colleges at which army officers are serving as instructors, have been appointed second lieutenants in the army. Among them is Everett Collins of Nashua, N. H., who is appointed to the cavalry.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

THE MARRIAGE OF MR. HENRY AUSTIN

The marriage of Mr. Henry Austin Dixby of Ayer and Miss Harriet May Hall, daughter of the late ex-Postmaster John Sudden Hall took place last evening at the home of the bride, in North Chelmsford. Rev. Granville Pierce of Ashby performing the ceremony. The couple were married under an arch of pink asters and hydrangeas entwined in wiondoline. As the bride party entered the parlor at 6 o'clock, Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Mr. Edward Everett Adams of Lowell, who has also played at two previous weddings in the Hall family.

Miss Hall was attended by her sister, Mrs. Fred Ware Park, as patron of honor. Miss Dorothy Hall and Miss Charlotte Park, her nieces, were bridesmaids. The Misses Katherine and Margaret Hall, twin nieces, were flower girls and Master Philip Park was ring bearer, carrying the wedding ring upon a silver tray. The best man was Mr. William Hall, brother of the bride.

The bride wore white satin trimmed with duchess lace and carried a duchess lace handkerchief, the gift of her sister, Mrs. Park.

During the reception, Fred G. Huss of Boston, catered. Mrs. W. Hall and Mrs. Fred Huss served in the dining room, where the table was effectively decked in pink asters and greenery.

The ushers were Mr. Harry L. Parkhurst of Chelmsford, Mr. Arthur Carland of Lowell and Mr. Thurston Bliss of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixby received many beautiful and costly gifts, each eloquent of the good wishes of the donor. Upon their return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Dixby will be at home to their friends at their home in Main street, Ayer, after Oct. 15.

DESIGNATES ELECTED

PANAMA, Sept. 15.—Liberal members of the national assembly yesterday elected Pablo Arosemena, Frederico Boyd and Rodolfo Chirri as first, second and third designates, respectively. Arosemena becomes acting president for the expired term of the late President Obaldia. All three designates are liberals. The conservatives assemblymen were not present at the election.

BATES ARRESTED

CHARGED WITH THREATENING TO SHOOT McMANUS

WORCESTER, Sept. 15.—Edward Bates, aged 45, head of the Bates piano company at 4 Walnut street, was arrested yesterday by Inspector Fred P. Good on a warrant charging him with threatening to shoot James C. McManus, a salesman for a rival piano concern.

McManus swore out the warrant late in the afternoon and it was given to Inspector Good to serve. He went to the Bates store and notified the proprietor he had the warrant for his arrest. Bates ordered the officer from the premises and, according to Good, he began to heap torrents of abuse on his head. The inspector says he cautioned Bates to come along quietly, but that Bates put up a fight. Then the inspector grabbed him by the collar, and Bates reached headquarters all muffled up, and after being booked he was locked in a cell, where he remained until bailed out last night for his appearance in the district court today.

AVIATION MEET

The Flyers Startled the Crowd With Stunts

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Some of the best flying of the aviation meet at Atlantic was that which was seen yesterday afternoon, when Grahame-White was in the air with his monoplane, Glenn H. Curtiss in his fastest biplane, Walter Brookings and Ralph Johnstone in Wright biplanes and Charley Willard in the Curtiss Hudson River flyer.

There were some aerial stunts done at that particular time when these five aviators were flying over the field and the bay and the harbor which equaled—yes, exceeded in many picturesque ways—anything seen at the meet thus far.

It was as if the bird men, like a flock of pigeons, were at play after the contests of the preceding days—as if they were enjoying themselves in a care-free sort of way, darting hither and thither, rising, soaring, circling and at one time it looked very much as if Mr. Johnstone was trying to imitate some of those peculiar tricks which only a tumbler pigeon performs successfully in flight.

It was a splendid exhibition of flying, and the three or four thousand persons who were present enjoyed it hugely. The skill which these professional aviators have attained was well illustrated in the quick turns they made, in the diving and quick rising when only a few feet from the ground; in the gliding without power at times and in the beautiful alighting.

Boared Even Wilbur Wright. Johnstone did some sensational stunts—in fact so sensational that the tactful Wilbur Wright criticized his pupil for attempting them. He has a sort of spiral turn which he makes which creates a curious optical illusion. The machine appears as if it was turning completely over, and when he first did this the spectators fairly gasped. But he always came right side up and waved his hand at the grandstand as he sailed away and soared aloft over Dorchester bay, only to come back and send a new thrill down everybody's spine by some wholly unexpected performance.

Walter Brookings was not one whit behind his partner in these dare-devil stunts in a Wright biplane, from which he floated the little American and the little Irish flag. He did some corking screw descents from a height of 1000 feet or more that were really thrilling and he flew the whole length of the course only a few feet from the ground, looking like a great wild duck flying low over a marsh. The two whirling propellers on these Wright machines add very much to the suggestion of the wild duck in flight.

Grahame-White also proved that he was not a whit behind the Wright flyers in doing stunts in his Farman biplane. He can turn as sharp an angle as any of them; can swoop toward the ground in a hair-raising fashion and suddenly soar aloft again at the moment when it seems as if he would be dashed to pieces.

Grahame-White's Motor Troubles. The motor on this biplane bothered him considerably yesterday and at one time, after he had taken a woman passenger around the course, he was forced to alight—or at least he thought he was to alight—under the circumstances and take no chances over the water with his passenger.

He landed in the gateway and probably nobody on the field—except the experts, whose ears are trained to the motor sound—knew that anything was the matter. He did intend to take his passenger around the course twice, however. The passenger was Miss Catherine Reed, a high school teacher from Washington, D. C.

The English aviator, a little later, took his biplane into the air again and circled the field with it a number of times, but the action of the motor did not wholly please him and he had the machine taken back to the hangar to have the motor overhauled by the mechanics.

Then he went up in his Blériot monoplane and gave a very beautiful exhibition of flying while four other machines were in the air. At one time it looked very much like a race between himself and Glenn H. Curtiss, who was flying in his racer with the new eight-cylinder motor.

In this machine Curtiss seemed to overhaul the monoplane on the long sides of the course and there were those who believed that this racer can beat Grahame-White's monoplane, in which he won the Globe $10,000 prize. The qualities of these two men and their machines will be tried out today in a contest which has been deemed upon for a $3000 cup. It will be a speed contest over three laps of the course, covering a distance of 5 1/2 miles. It will be one in which the speed merits of Grahame-White's monoplane and the Curtiss biplane will be severely tested.

Curtiss Due to Show Speed. Glenn H. Curtiss is not satisfied with the work he has done or the showing he has made during the meet so far, and he hopes to vindicate himself today in the contest. Even Wilbur Wright believes that the Curtiss machine is the fastest flyer on the field. Curtiss and Willard made several circuits of the course in a speed race, and Curtiss covered 5 1/2 miles in the least time he has yet made on the field—6m. 19 3/4-ss. This is not nearly as good as Grahame-White's speed record in the monoplane a few days ago, when he covered the same distance in 6m. 1 3/4-ss.

Bombdropping Today. There will be also some interesting bomb-dropping contests today for the City of Boston cup. The John Hays Hammond cup and the John Barry Ryan cup. In fact this last day of the meet should be one of the very best from a spectacular point of view, as the various flyers will also give exhibition flights in which the stunts of today will be duplicated and may be exceeded—weather permitting.

The weather yesterday was so threatening that the crowd was not nearly as large as on previous days, but the conditions for flying were unusually good—in fact much better than on the preceding day.

Management Satisfied. The rumors that the management of the meet have been dissatisfied with the showing of the American aviators are wholly groundless. The management are not only pleased with the work of the American aviators but feel indebted to them for their courtesy and their efforts and especially for the generous manner in which they consented to fly two more days than were originally scheduled or contracted for.

The management fully realizes that this meet has been in many essential respects the best meet ever held in the world and this result was only attained by the splendid flying of all the professional aviators who entered the meet. The Americans were a little unfortunate during the first few days, but they more than made up for this along toward the end of the contests. And there is not, nor has there been at any time, the slightest friction between the management and the aviators.

That part of the work has been conducted by James V. Martin in a manner wholly satisfactory to the management and the aviators. The critics should bear in mind that the contests of this meet were run off without a single serious accident. No aviators were urged to appear at any time unless their machines were in perfect condition.

GRAND CIRCUIT

Some Fast Horse Racing in the Events Yesterday

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 15.—The weather was fair, but the track was slow for the second day's Grand Circuit events at the state fair yesterday. There was an immense crowd present and some good racing was seen.

The first heat proved a walkaway for Colorado E., who was on the outside. Immediately upon the word, which was received at the first attempt, Colorado E. swung around the others and led the way about the first turn by a length. Emily Ellen being in second place. Emily made a bad break on the back stretch and never got going right thereafter. Colorado E. won as he pleased, with Eva Bellini a poor second and Emily still running, just within the place far behind.

Colorado E. took the second and last heat with the greatest ease and by several lengths. There was a great fight for second place, Emily Ellen and Eva Bellini alternating for the honor. They came down the stretch at a terrific pace, Bellini just but gaining on Emily Ellen at every stride. Just when it looked as if she would pass her, Bellini broke and, as a result, she and Emily divided second and third money.

Bunched at the Wire
In the Empire State stake there were seven starters. There was trouble in sending the field away, all getting by Hallworthy in coming down. Starter Union warned the drivers and told them that a repetition of the offense would mean 50 apiece. He also warned Hallworthy's driver to come down faster. They finally got away to a perfect start and it was a horse race all the way round, there being desperate strife from wire to wire between Joan, Billy Burke, Hallworthy and Major Strong. These four had it hot and heavy all the way round the backstretch, with Joan having the way by the slightest of margins.

Captain Cuto was in the original "fret" quartet until he broke on the backstretch and fell far back, his place being taken by Major Strong. There was a great finish at the wire, Billy Burke just beating out Joan and Hallworthy being right at Joan's throat larch. A single blanket would nearly have covered all three. Captain Cuto was sixth.

The second heat still further whittled the appetites of the crowd for this magnificent race. As before, Joan got after it in the hardest fashion and her muzzle showed to the fore as they tumbled around the turn. Up with her and coming strong were Hallworthy, Ario, Leyburn and Major Strong. The rest were within striking distance, however, and the race down the backstretch was a splendid one.

Everyone on his Toes

As they swung around the lower turn the crowd rose to tingling toes, and shouts rent the air as they came down the stretch in a compact bunch, four of them, Joan, Hallworthy, Ario, Leyburn and Blisa. "Joan" the crowd called, for it certainly looked as if the crook had made that beat. But suddenly the cry changed and the name of Hallworthy was acclaimed. The great bay gelding, coming on with an irresistible rush, nipped the flying mare and beat her by a scant neck. Blisa was third and Ario Leyburn fourth. Billy Burke, winner of the first heat, was last.

A rejuvenated Billy Burke, who had been neatly pocketed in the preceding heat, proceeded to take revenge in the third, winning it by a good length from Hallworthy, while the game Blisa was third. Ario Leyburn was fourth and Major Strong fifth, while Joan, who was driven easily throughout the heat, was last. Captain Cuto had been drawn, as he was not within the money and it was desired to save him for the 221 trot the next day.

The fourth and final heat of the Empire State event went to Billy Burke, who chased second to Hallworthy to the far turn and beat him down the stretch. Joan was third and Blisa fourth. Ario Leyburn and Major Strong not being within the money, had been ruled out for this heat. The summary:

Carrell took everything that wasn't riveted down tight. He took a wheelbarrow and 1000 feet of lumber from the Massachusetts mill job.

In robbing several clothes lines in Belvidere Carrell didn't bother his head about removing the articles from the lines but took lines, clothes-pins and all.

In one instance a Belvidere lady took her winter coat and hung it on the line for the purpose of brushing it and then ran into the house to get the brush. She wasn't in the house two minutes but when she came out the coat had gone and she saw it no more until the police unearthed it in Carrell's home.

Carrell is an elderly Sicilian with a clear, glittering eye. He protested his innocence most strenuously.

RIKER-JAYNES DRUG STORE

PATENT MEDICINES

You can save time and money by stepping into one of the Riker-Jaynes stores when in need of any of the well-known advertised remedies. It is a well-known fact that we carry the largest assortment of patent medicines of any retail drug house, and many have learned from experience that, if an article cannot be obtained in any of our stores, it is useless to try any other place. You can always be sure of getting money in this department. Our business was started on the principle of small profits and large sales. We have been successful and will, therefore, continue in the future, as we always have in the past, to quote the lowest prices.

In our Early Fall Sale we show to a limited extent only the great variety of goods to be found in our stores and the fact that you can actually save 1-4 to 1-2 of the cost on all regular drug store goods, as well as on the goods in our special departments. We have selected many items which will be of interest to the housekeepers who are returning from their vacations, various toilet accessories and many devices that will give comfort to the invalid. Many of the prices in this advertisement have been marked down extremely low for this sale. These prices will be in effect Friday and Saturday of this week and Monday and Tuesday of next week only.

You would scarcely know from the prices we quote in this department that the cost of rubber is today about three times as much as it was a year or two ago.

DRUGS

In buying drugs something more besides the price should be taken into consideration. We guarantee all the drugs that we sell to be of the highest quality obtainable. We know they are the best because we have the facilities in our laboratory for testing them. Another very important thing to consider is the age. Many drugs which have been kept in stock any length of time become absolutely useless. Our drugs positively are fresh because our immense volume of business does not permit them to stay in our stores any length of time, and still you will find our prices lower in a great many instances, because by buying in original bale and barrel lots and importing the goods ourselves, we can effect a big saving and you share in this saving. We quote below only a few of the most seasonable household articles. Prices quoted on liquid drugs include the containers.

PRESCRIPTIONS

There are several mighty good reasons which should appeal to every thinking man and which should make you decide in favor of the Riker-Jaynes Drug stores as the most competent to fill your physician's prescriptions. These are plain arguments which every man or woman should understand and every physician should appreciate.

We all as many prescriptions in our day as the average drug store does in a year—fresh, active drugs.

Only registered pharmacists of the highest type are permitted to work in our prescription rooms.

The first rule to our prescription clerks is to fill the prescription exactly according to the physician's instructions, or not to fill it at all.

Our drugs and chemicals we buy from the leading manufacturers in the country, and also subject them to a test, in our own laboratory.

Physicians can depend on our having in stock the very latest discoveries (both in this country and abroad) in medicines for the treatment of all kinds of disease.

And, as a general rule, we can save you money.

TRUSSES & ELASTIC HOSIERY

The Riker-Jaynes Lowell store is fitted with a special room used only for fitting trusses and elastic hosiery. This assures absolute privacy. The attendants are experienced in this line of work and we guarantee an absolutely perfect fit. Five factories are kept busy supplying our stores in Boston and vicinity. The quality of the goods we guarantee and we can prove to you that we can save you money.

EXPLAINING THE MAINE SLUMP.

Many of the republican organs throughout the country blame Roosevelt for the smashing defeat suffered by the republican party in the state of Maine.

The New York Times takes this view and makes a vigorous attack upon Roosevelt, who, it says, "is raging up and down the land with passionate and reckless appeals." The Times speaking of Roosevelt's influence on the republican party says:

"To the amazement of many republicans, but to the evident joy of others, these symbols have now been written and smeared across the republican banner. They see it seized and frantically waved aloft by one man, who is raging up and down the land, filling the air with his passionate and reckless appeals for the acceptance of the new and strange principles, the principles of a faith invented by himself which he describes as the 'new nationalism,' a faith subversive not merely of the older faiths, but of American institutions themselves."

The Times winds up with a strong appeal to democrats to grasp the opportunity, concluding thus:

"Against these agitators, against the dangerous delusions they preach, and against the wave of popular passion they have stirred up until it threatens to overwhelm the country, the democratic party, under leaders of sanity and of wisdom, must arise itself and present a solid front for the defence of all that is most precious in the heritage that has come down to us from the founders of the republic."

"That is good advice for democrats. The discomfiture of the republican party makes democratic victory a foregone conclusion if democrats are loyal to their own interests and show reasonably good judgment."

PRESIDENT TUTTLE'S RETIREMENT

The retirement of President Tuttle of the Boston & Maine railroad will be regretted by many business men with whom he has had official relations for many years. He is one of the best railroad men in the country and a citizen who always used his influence in behalf of progress and popular reforms. If the Boston & Maine has not been quite as prosperous as other roads, we do not believe the fault lay with President Tuttle.

President Mellen, who succeeds Mr. Tuttle, promises to improve the service. The progress of the hour demands improvement of course. One of the improvements will probably be the electrification of a great portion of the lines. The Boston & Maine now becomes part and parcel of a great railroad system and hence radical changes and improvements are to be expected.

President Mellen, a native of Lowell, is the guiding spirit of the combined roads and under his control it is expected that the general public will see the advantages of the merger. The Sun has all along favored the merger as a means of making possible improvements in the service that the Boston & Maine alone could never attempt.

THE RULE OF THREE.

The old fashioned "rule of three" is not taught in the elementary schools nowadays. The proper name of that rule is "proportion" and it is based upon the equality of ratios; but for some reason the more recent arithmetics have little or nothing about proportion.

By proportion, simple and compound, nearly all arithmetical problems can be solved. Familiarity with the right use of this rule trains the reasoning power as few other rules can.

In compound proportion there are numerous ratios to be compared with a given ratio in order to complete another ratio and this process of comparison by which a desired result may be obtained is very valuable as a mental trainer.

But the teachers of arithmetic at the present day manage to solve problems in proportion by what is known as the unit rule, which is not as safe, as accurate or as easy. The elimination of the "rule of three" from the school course is responsible for a great part of the failure of our school graduates in civil service and other examinations.

SENATOR LODGE'S VIEW.

Senator Lodge endeavors to attach but slight importance to the sweeping democratic victory in the state of Maine. He says it is due mainly to local conditions. We agree with him in that. It was entirely due to local conditions. The people of the Pine Tree state are suffering from the effects of a bad tariff law. They are suffering from the high cost of living. These are, as Mr. Lodge says, local conditions, but the same conditions prevail in every other part of the country. So that local conditions throughout the country will operate against the republican party in the same way as in the state of Maine. Mr. Lodge will find that local conditions are likely to overthrow the republican majority even in his own stamping ground of Massachusetts.

He has stood firmly by the stand-patners of the republican party, and although he must realize that the ship is sinking, still as a valiant captain he shouts to the middies, "There is no danger." But wait, retribution will come to Lodge as well as the rest of the unscrupulous stand-patners.

THE WRIGHTS WERE BEATEN.

Graham-White has shown the Wrights how to fly. The Wrights insist on too much for their services and they seek to establish a monopoly of the flying machine business under their patents. In view of these things there were very few to regret that a foreign aviator beat them in some of the most important contests. Graham-White was willing to enter the contest for the sum of $7,500, but the Wrights demanded $30,000. This with their winnings of $9,250, gave them more than Graham-White, although he received $22,100 in prizes while the Wrights won but $9,250. Curtiss entered for $10,000 and won $6,500 in prizes. The results show that the Wright Brothers cannot sustain their claims of superiority to all other machines by actual performance.

"Taddy Roosevelt!" cried one of the boys.—Judge.

CLOSE CALCULATION

The business man who stays at home And figures night and day,
Gazed at the girls who love to roam
When summer time is gay;
He shouted welcome from afar
And viewed them with delight,
Even though the sun had dared to mar
Complexions once so white.And then to work again he turned,
The weary hours he spent
Where values of all kinds he learned
In fractions of a cent.
He found when the clock began to chime
The bills at Billowy's had piled out
That this year's frackles cost about
Two hundred dollars each.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

An entire change of bill at the Academy today, including the Harrington sisters, singers and dancers, McCrea & Barrows in feats of marksmanship and Burkhardt, Kelly & Co. in a great comedy sketch "Alaska or Bust." All new pictures. Admission 5 and 10 cents.

THEATRE VOYONS

The twice a week change of bill at the Theatre Voyons is made today and the new program is an exceptionally good one. Not one of the numbers is old and every one is the very best in its class selected after the entire product for the week has been seen and only the most suitable booked. There is no theatre in the state which can excel in quality the Theatre Voyons for every care is taken and much money expended in the effort to present not only the best but the newest and most appropriate pictures. One of the comedies on today's bill, "Good Bye," is a real hit for laughing purposes and will be sure to please. Another subject out of the ordinary is "Hunting Panthers in India," a thrilling feature of interest to every sportsman and nature lover, for every stage of the exciting chase and capture of this fierce brute is shown.

TO CURE DANDRUFF

A Very Simple Thing to Do If You Do It Right

Do you know that dandruff can be quickly cured by simply washing the hair and scalp with Birt's Head Wash? Use it two or three times a week, and your scalp will be clean, smooth and pink, with not a trace of scales or dandruff. Your hair will take on new life, and become soft and glossy. Perhaps you have heretofore tried the plan of frequent washing with common soap, but try again with Birt's Head Wash and see the difference. The reason is that ordinary soaps and shampoos contain an excess of alkali which hurts the scalp more than it helps it. Birt's Head Wash is made of refined soap, Coccine coconut oil, white of eggs, glycerine and salicylic acid. At drug and department stores. 25c, 50c.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

"The Wolf," the great success of that now famous author, "The Wolf," will be brought to the Opera House tonight. "The Wolf" is a melodrama of the Canadian Hudson Bay country. In three acts the first act takes place in front of the house of Andrew McTavish, a Scotch trader, on the banks of the Wind river; the second act is the interior of the same home, and the third is in the woods at the portage of Little Bear river. The action consumes but a day.

Years before the story of "The Wolf" begins, a half-breed, by an American adventurer, and on his death-bed Jules' father tells him to find his step-sister, Annette, and care for her. Jules goes north on the search, but finds that his sister met voluntary death in a storm, after her betrayal. He determines to find the man and avenge his step-sister's wrongs, enlisting with him Baliste LeGrande, a nomad.

In the first act, William McDonald and his assistant, George Huntley, are found stopping at the McTavish home, while promoting the construction of a railroad. McDonald has been making love to McTavish's daughter, Hilda, who child hated by her father because he wished for a son, and because her mother deserted him on account of his abuse. Jules and Baliste arrive. Jules is Hilda's admirer, but has never spoken his love. He has been told by Baliste that, although he is married, he is going to take Hilda away with him. In his boasting, he admits that it was he who drove Annette to her death in the storm.

In the second act McDonald tricks McTavish into promising that Hilda shall go with him. When McDonald tries to kill his daughter for refusing to go with McDonald, Jules interferes. Huntley takes sides with Jules and Baliste, and after a desperate fight they escape with Hilda.
The last act finds the party in flight, seeking at the portage of Little Bear river. Jules and Baliste have been back in a canoe, leaving Jules alone to return to the McTavish home for the purpose of killing McDonald and avenging Annette. Before Jules can start on his return journey, however, McDonald appears in pursuit. There is a fight with Jules and the death of McDonald at the hands of Jules."THE CITY."
To the use of drugs, doubtless, may be traced depravity, the utter lack of honor and the tendency to blackmail of George Washington. The character of "The City," the play of the wonderful character in the play of the Middleburg, N. Y. Although he is in ignorance of his birth, he realizes that he has some hold upon the human race. "The City" is taken into the bank but fails. The drug habit dominates his character.
Finally his demands become so frequent, that Rand offers resistance and Hannock threatens his life. The shock brings on a stroke of apoplexy and he dies. Hannock confesses to his son and heir the blot upon the family name.

The Rand family, which is to say, the son, Mrs. Rand and the two daughters, Teresa and Cleopatra, have long yearned for city life. The death of the father leaves the son, Hannock, to inherit the business of the father and after a few years in New York, he has more than doubled the Rand fortune. Hannock, still a victim of morphine, has been installed in the Rand home as secretary.

The son, satisfied with his business success, has now turned to politics. His nomination for governor of New York, his political manager asks him if there is anything he is ashamed of. Although aware of his father's wrongdoing, the son declares that he can enter the arena with a clean record and a clean conscience. Hannock then reaps some of the spoils and openly declares himself. The campaign manager calls for his dismissal, whereupon Rand refuses. Pressure becomes so great, however, that Rand discharges him. The head replies that he cannot be discharged, which leads to an issue between the two men.

"THE MAN FROM HOME."
Wm. Hodge, the star of the record-breaking play by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson, "The Man From Home," which is to be seen at the Lowell Opera House Thursday evening, is particularly at home in the part of Daniel Voorhees Pike, the Kokomo lawyer. In the play, some years ago, before Mr. Hodge thought seriously of adopting the stage as a profession, he studied law in Indianapolis, and so brings to his work a peculiar fitness for the portrayal of the local atmosphere of the character, but thoroughly familiar with the ways and habits of the legal profession in Indiana.

Such emphasis has been laid upon the allurements of the famous waltz in "The Merry Widow," upon the transcendent charm of Franz Lehár's melody, and upon the whimsical appeal of the operetta's humor that relatively minor details have been recorded the work's rare dramatic strength. No light upon within memory is so beautifully supplied with stirring dramatic scenes, tense moments that thrill the spectator. From the moment of Sonja's discovery of the identity of the slumbering Danilo in that artistic episode, gay humor and almost tragic intensity are so adroitly blended that until Popoff's discomfiture in the final act, there is a succession of scenes in themselves quite capable of riveting any audience. Indeed, as was pointed out by one of New York's critics upon the occasion of the operetta's premiere, "The Merry Widow" would undoubtedly be a great success even if stripped of its wonderful music, its gorgeous footlights investitures and its ever varied stage pictures. Chief among the interpreting company are Gertrude Hutcheson as Sonja and George Damstra as Prince Danilo. The splendid orchestra that has heretofore accompanied this organization will again be a feature. The orchestra will be under the direction of Frank Manderville.

GREAT VIOLIN VIRTUOSO
Lowell will have the pleasure of hearing one of the world's great violinists at the Lowell Opera House on the evening of Oct. 15th. Francis MacMillin who stands in the front rank with Sayre, Kreisler and Harman, will come to Lowell after opening his season with the Boston Symphony orchestra on October 14-15. Mr. MacMillin is a thorough artist, and keeps his audiences spell-bound. He has absolutely finished technique; a strong broad and energetic bow-arm and his whole performance is invested with great fire and deeply felt sentiment. The strong, original, irrefragable personality of the young artist appeals and captivates with its hypnotic quality.
Lowell has not had a great violinist in many years, and this opportunity that is given our students and music lovers to hear one of the world's great artists should meet with hearty support by all those interested in the artistic and student growth of the city.

Every Day — The Grocers Say.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Everybody loves to see children romping, and the real play indulged in by the nine "Country Kids" at Hathaway's theatre, this week, is one of the trials of the season. Notwithstanding the fact that the musical comedy was given here three seasons ago, hardly anybody would recognize it, for Gus Edwards has written entirely new music for it, and the general idea has also been changed. Billy Fraser, a good boy tenor, appears with the kids, and the comedy is well supplied by Gertrude Morgan and Fred C. Hackett. Edna Luby, a top notch impersonator, will please any audience. Especially good is her impersonation of Nora Bayes, singing "Kelly." She also impersonates Rose Stahl, in the scene from "The Chorus Lady." Marie Dressler, Vesta Tilley and Anna Held. Other acts on the bill are: Duff & Walsh, dancers; Doyle & Wilson, in a black face sketch; Haswell, Leigh and Griffiths in "The Magicians"; "Tooley will furnish plenty of fun with his Kinnia family, Jap, wonder workers; their songs and monologues. And not

Edgar Berger, gymnast, and the motion pictures.
Performances of the foregoing acts will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week.

SCENIC THEATRE

One of the best bills seen at a Lowell vaudeville house in some time will be presented to the public when the New Scenic theatre throws open its doors for the first time next Monday afternoon.

The Victorina Hindoo troupe, for instance, will present some novelties in the way of mysterious stunts and doings which are bound to set the audience a-gossiping. Then there is the Scenic Stock company, of George D. Mackey, who has been for summer after summer at the Lyonn theatre, and Miss Bessie Overton, of the Adain Goode company fame, in a complete farcical dramatic sketch, LaFoye and Tooley will furnish plenty of fun with their songs and monologues. And not the least attractive feature will be the moving pictures and illustrated songs, with a fine soloist, well known in Lowell.

The theatre itself is the prettiest in Lowell, and the most comfortable. Yet the admission is but 10 cents, with a few reserved seats at 25 cents, on sale continually one week in advance. Continuous performance from 1 p. m. until 10.30 p. m. daily.

DR. COOK'S BACKER MAN FOUND DEAD FRANK KELLOGG

Gone to Search for Explorer's North Pole Records

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 15.—The Danish government steamer Hans Egede arrived here today with the news that John R. Bradley, the financial backer of Dr. Frederick A. Cook's North polar expedition, was on his way to Elah to secure the much-talked-of records and instruments which Cook has said that he left at that Eskimo settlement on the northwest coast of Greenland. The captain of the steamer thinks that Cook is with Bradley, but gives no particular reason for this belief.

The Hans Egede, which is the vessel on which the explorer traveled to civilization after his exploit in the Arctic a year ago, fell in with a yacht at Godhavn, a Danish settlement on the south coast of Disco Island, Greenland, and in the course of exchanges between the masters, learned that Bradley was aboard the other craft.

The polar hunt promoter admitted his identity and explained that he was bound for Etah to recover whatever had been left there by Dr. Cook. He refused, however, to either deny or confirm the report that he was accompanied by the explorer. The ship brings the information that two missionaries who are working among the Eskimos and who accompanied Cook on his expedition say that the Eskimo hunter, the doctor reached the pole, as he claims, prior to its discovery by Commander Peary.

COSMOS SOCIAL CLUB

There was a large attendance of members at the regular meeting of the Cosmos Social and Athletic club held last night at the camp at Long Pond. At the conclusion of the business meeting a social and smoker was held. Messrs. Bailey and Dismore entertained with songs, Joseph McGarry and Joseph Lanthier spoke on the labor question, and Peter Noonan and William Christy gave readings and songs. Messrs. Usher and Cummings also entertained with buck and wing dancing.

EVANGELICAL ASSOCIATION

In the First Evangelical church rooms in the Runnels building there was held, yesterday afternoon and evening, the quarterly conference of the women's auxiliaries of the Evangelical association of New England. The president, Mrs. F. L. Stevens of Cambridge, presided. There was a service of prayer and praise, followed by the usual reports of officers and delegates. The churches represented were those of Somerville, Everett, Stoneham, East Boston, New Bedford and Lowell.

CHELMSFORD

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Central Congregational church of Chelmsford held its semi-annual business meeting in the church vestry Tuesday evening. All officers were re-elected with the exception of the vice-president, Mrs. E. T. Adams being chosen to take the place of E. Roy Kittredge, who is out of town. It was voted to abolish the Junior department of the society. The executive committee will provide speakers for the Sunday evening meetings for the next six months. About $75 has been taken in during the past half year and the expenses for this period amounted to about $70. There is now in the treasury about $30. After the business meeting refreshments were served under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Ashworth.

On Top of a Freight Car

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 15.—On the arrival of the Portland freight, in charge of Conductor True, from Boston, on the Portland division of the B. & M. R. R., shortly after 10 last night, a trainman found the body of a man lying on the top of a box car. Two companions who were stealing a ride with him said that his name was Robert McArthur and that his home was 11A Irwin street, Malden, Mass. After giving this information to the trainmen the two men fled on the approach of Police Officer Philbrook. It is thought by railroad men that he was struck by the overhead bridge at the Plains. The unfortunate man was about 25 years old and had the appearance of a sailor, having India ink marks on his right hand.

May be Appointed Solicitor General

BEVERLY, Sept. 15.—The sudden death last week of Solicitor General Lloyd W. Bowers has made an important vacancy for President Taft to fill. Several names have been presented to the president for his consideration.

Among the most prominently mentioned is Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul. Mr. Kellogg was employed as special attorney in the prosecution of the Standard Oil cases and it is understood is thoroughly familiar with the work of the solicitor general's office.

President Taft's policy regarding rivers and harbors will be outlined on Tuesday in the only speech he will make during his trip to Ohio. The president will deliver this speech at the opening of a dam which has been constructed near Cincinnati in connection with a project for improving the Ohio river.

The president's callers yesterday included Senator Foster of Louisiana, who came to present the claims of New Orleans to the Panama exposition of 1915. Hon. H. McKenzie, minister of lands of Victoria, Australia, who is investigating irrigation and reclamation work in the United States; Pres. Thiel of Howard university, Washington; Dr. Knox of the American association for the prevention of infant mortality; and C. T. Searle of Boston.

Mr. Searle discussed various phases of the commerce, art and light board and offered a few suggestions regarding the operations of these bodies.

HEAVY DUTIES

WERE PAID BY WIFE OF CONGRESSMAN FASSETT

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Mrs. J. Sloat Fassett, wife of the New York congressman and politician, who arrived from Europe on the White Star liner Zealand last night, brought $2000 worth of Paris gowns of the latest model and several trunks filled with other costly merchandise. In all, Mrs. Fassett's declaration called for $2500 worth of dutiable goods, and Uncle Sam collected from the congressman about $2000 in customs dues. It is the largest single amount to be paid at this port in months.

The Fassett party consisted of Mrs. Fassett and her son and daughter, who have been spending several months in San Sebastian, Spain. Congressman Fassett went down to quarantine on the boarding revenue cutter Winnebago and greeted his family in the lower harbor. When a reporter asked him what he thought of the Maine election he replied:

"Young man, I'll talk about anything else on earth but that."

One of the most valuable dogs ever brought to America, worth thousands of dollars, is said, attracted much admiration among the Zealand's saloon passengers. It is Michaelmas, the highest bred hunting dog in all England, and was brought over by Mr. McGuffin of St. John's church, Newton Lower Falls. The latter told a reporter he was present from his uncle and that the animal had cleaned up about all the prizes in England.

Mrs. Denis O'Callaghan of South Boston was welcomed at the dock by several members of the United Irish league and other well-known Catholics. He has been in Ireland for six weeks with Dr. P. J. Timmins, and on his return declared Ireland was more prosperous than for many years and that home rule is close at hand.

THE ANNIVERSARY OF THE DEATHS OF MCKINLEY AND COLLINS

Yesterday, Sept. 14, marked the anniversary of the death of two distinguished men, President William McKinley and Mayor Patrick A. Collins, of Boston.

On Sept. 14, 1901, at the home of John G. Milburn, Buffalo, N. Y., President McKinley succumbed to the wounds inflicted by the assassin, Leon Czolgosz. With Mr. Milburn, president of the Buffalo exposition, the president attended the fair on Sept. 6, where he held a big reception at the temple of music. One young man, medium sized and smooth shaven, with his right hand swathed in a handkerchief, approached, and the president, his face lit with a smile, extended his hand. As he did so two revolver shots rang out sharply.

The president was seen to stagger. Then he sank back, half fainting, into the arms of Secretary George B. Cortelyou. The assassin was immediately seized by bystanders. The president was tenderly carried to the home of Mr. Milburn. On the 14th he gradually grew weaker and weaker, and at 2:45 o'clock the next morning he expired.

The assassin was quickly brought to trial and in less than two months' time had paid the full penalty of the law at Auburn, N. Y., for his crime. Just four years later Boston received a shock by news from Hot Springs, Va., to the effect that Mayor Patrick A. Collins had passed away in that city. The mayor had left Boston on Sept. 5 on his annual vacation. A few days after his arrival there he was seized with an attack of acute gastritis. The attack gradually became more violent and at 10:45 o'clock on the morning of the 14th he passed away suddenly.

The funeral a few days later was one of the most impressive ever held at the cathedral of the Holy Cross.

HELEN TAFT

WILL NOT RETURN TO BRYN MAWR

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—Announcement was made yesterday at Bryn Mawr that Miss Helen Taft, daughter of President Taft, will not return to the college this year. Instead it is stated that she will stay at home and assist her mother in the many social duties devolving upon her as the first lady of the land.

Miss Taft's return to Bryn Mawr had not been expected by her close friends, but it was not known definitely that she had decided to discontinue her college course until the announcement just made.

Friends of Miss Taft say that her own inclinations were to continue her studies and that she had expressed eagerness to return this year and complete her term.

MARY MANNERING

SUDDENLY STRICKEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Miss Mary Manning, the actress, is said to be seriously ill at Roosevelt hospital, in this city, to which place she was removed after a rehearsal earlier in the week. Her illness is attributed to appendicitis, for which an operation was performed immediately after her admittance to the institution. Miss Manning was preparing to play the leading role in "A Man's World," with the Shuberts managing the production. Miss Manning, who is the divorced wife of James K. Hackett, the actor, has held a conspicuous place on the stage for several years. She was born in London April 28, 1856, and made her debut in "Hero and Leander." She appeared in "Shakespearean roles in the marriage was kept secret until the following year when she was eight, leaving January. She separated from him in 1894 she appeared in "The Hackett three years ago and brought Courtship of "Leonie" at the Lyceum suit for divorce.

OLD SWEETHEARTS

WERE MARRIED IN NEW YORK YESTERDAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—There was a wedding yesterday in St. Mark's church, Jamaica, L. I., which marked the beginning of a romance. The principals are, bridegroom Harry S. O'Neill, O'Neill came engaged years ago. Then they drifted apart through misunderstanding following alleged interception of letters by a relative of the young woman. Meantime each had married. Death left one a widow, the other a widower.

is a veterinary surgeon and special agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Brady. Mr. O'Neill said that eighteen years ago he and his bride were engaged to be married. She was then Miss Abrams, and, according to Mr. O'Neill, one of her relatives, who did not approve of the engagement, intercepted their letters and caused an estrangement, so that the engagement was broken off.

O'Neill was graduated from St. Francis Xavier's college, in Manhattan, and then studied to become a veterinary surgeon. He said that he sent Miss Abrams an invitation to attend the graduation exercises when he received his diploma, but that this also was intercepted and she never got it.

In 1900 O'Neill married Miss Genevieve Maher, of Brooklyn, who died eighteen months ago, leaving a girl of nine years and a boy of five years.

Miss Abrams in 1891 became the wife of Harry Bennett, who died in 1894, leaving her with a son of fourteen years and a daughter of eight years. Since the death of the first Mrs. O'Neill the widow and widower frequently met and the old love soon revived.

THE TREATY OBLIGATIONS

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 15.—Declaring that to fortify the Panama canal would constitute an act of war, General J. Warren Keffer, representative from the Seventh Ohio district, in a lengthy statement issued here last night, reviews the treaty obligations of the United States with reference to the canal. His statement takes its text from suggestions made by William Randolph Hearst in a statement issued Sunday.

POLICE ON DUTY

At Nashua Factory Where Strike is in Progress

NASHUA, N. H., Sept. 15.—Six arrests and six hours of police court sessions were occasioned by the strike at the Estabrook-Anderson shoe factory yesterday.

In anticipation of further trouble the police department put on duty yesterday morning a detail of 18 policemen, and these handled the crowds effectively. The outbreaks and the encounters between the police and the strikers and their sympathizers were mild and were quickly disposed of.

Yesterday's arrests were the following: Cosmos Coffalos charged with assault and interfering with Walter Codis, Thomas Pelky, obstructing the sidewalk; Jacob Oulrick, obstructing the sidewalk; Jacob Ahronian, T. Apostolis, interfering with Barney Se-liner, the leader of the strike-breakers. Coffalos was fined $8 and costs for the assault and held in $500 bonds for superior court on the other complaint. Pelky and Oulrick were fined $5 and costs each. The complaint against Ahronian was dismissed and that against Apostolis was not prosed. Attorney I. C. Eaton appeared in each case except that of Pelky, where Fred J. Gaffney was the counsel. Each case where fine was imposed was appealed.

Policemen Are Sued

In the cases brought forward was one against N. John for interfering with Barney Seiner. This was dismissed. Jim Follas, arrested Tuesday night for obstructing the sidewalk, was fined $5 and costs and an appeal was taken. His brother, Stergus Follas, charged with attempting to rescue Jim from the policeman, was held in $200 bonds for the superior court.

Costas Saravaniis was arrested yesterday afternoon on an old complaint alleging assault on Paul Stillman last Saturday. His case will be heard today.

One of the most interesting cases heard yesterday was that of George Parsedus, charged with obstructing the sidewalk. He was arrested Tuesday night by Patrolman James Winn and Hector Gaudette. He was also charged with using annoying language to the officers, and was fined $5 and costs on each, from which Atty. Eaton appealed.

As counsel for Parsedus, Atty. Eaton has brought action against the two policemen, charging them with assault on Parsedus and fixing the damage at $500. Police Commissioner Frank Wingate gave bonds for Patrolman Winn, and Special Officer George Gaudette for Gaudette. Parsedus alleges that he was pulled off a doorstep while explaining to the policeman, and that one kicked him and the other punched him so that he required the services of a physician. In Parsedus' case Mr. Eaton alleged that the complaints were drawn under the wrong ordinance owing to the recent revision, but the court overruled this.

Tuesday night a large amount of money was subscribed for the support and assistance of the strikers. It is claimed that $2000 is in the hands of the treasurer, T. Apostolis, who is president of the organization, and who was one of the men arrested yesterday, telegraphed A. Henrich, the Greek consul at Boston, Tuesday night to come here and assist the strikers.

Yesterday George Theoharis, secretary of the Boston consulate, came here. He listened to the proceedings in court yesterday afternoon, and while the Greeks claimed that they were not receiving justice at the hands of the police, he stated after the session that he believed the strikers were receiving their just dues in return for their acts. Last night he met the strikers and their sympathizers and informed them that if they wished to strike that was a privilege they had, but that they

GATH—LEONARD
Mr. Frederic David Gath and Miss Elizabeth Leonard were married yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at Notre-Dame de Lourdes rectory. Rev. Fr. Lamothe, O. M. I., officiated at the ceremony. Mr. Austin F. Bourke was best man, and Miss Melinda Roy served as bridesmaid.

MERCIER—BLACK
A very pretty marriage ceremony took place last evening at the residence of Rev. C. E. Fisher, 224 Foster street, when Mr. Chester Mercier and Mrs. Adelaide B. Black were wedded. The best man was Mr. Edmond Mercier, brother of the bridegroom, while the bridesmaid was Miss Minnie Stewart. The bride was attired in white silk trimmed with point d'esprit lace, and carried white roses. The bridegroom was attired in an all over lace gown and carried roses. The ushers were Mr. Donald W. MacKenzie, Mr. Vinton A. Farrington, Mr. Alfred J. Somerset and Mr. Ingham Mercier. Following the ceremony, at which only the most immediate relatives were present, a reception was held at the residence of the bridegroom's brother, Mr. Edmond Mercier, at 20 Bertha street. Here were gathered some 200 guests. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. Refreshments were served. The numerous and beautiful gifts were on display. Mr. and Mrs. Mercier left last evening on a honeymoon trip by automobile. After an extended tour they will reside at 153 Gershom avenue, where they will be at home to their friends after Jan. 1, 1911.

SEARLES—HOWARD
Mr. Charles J. Searles of Chelmsford and Miss Anna F. Howard of Lowell were united in marriage yesterday afternoon by Rev. C. E. Fisher at his residence, 224 Foster street. They were unattended.

RILEY—GORMLEY
Mr. John J. Riley and Miss Annie Gormley, both of this city, were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock at the parochial residence of St. Patrick's church. Rev. Joseph Curran performed the ceremony. Mr. William Irvin, a friend of the groom, was best man and Miss Mary Gormley, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bride was attired in imported lace and wore white silk and carried bride roses. The bridesmaid wore pink silk with silver trimmings and carried pink carnations. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride at 628 Broadway, which was attended by immediate friends and relatives including many from out of town. The wedding gifts were numerous and beautiful, and consisted of silver and cut glass and many other articles. Mr. and Mrs. Riley left on the 5:20 train for Boston, and after an extended trip to Albany, N. Y., they will be home to their friends at 99 Foster street.

JAIL SENTENCE OWNER RESCUED

Also $100 Fine for Illegal Keeping

Judge Raymond, presiding at the criminal session of the superior court in East Cambridge, ordered Philip Couture to pay a fine of $100 and serve a sentence of three months in jail for illegally keeping liquor.

Couture was found guilty in the local police court and ordered to pay a fine of $100 and serve a three months' sentence, but appealed.

SHAFROTH WON FRUIT STEAMER

He Was Nominated for Governor

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 15.—As a result of the narrow margin by which John F. Shafroth was renominated for governor over Dr. R. L. Jefferson by the democratic state convention last night, the vote being 554 to 537, it was expected that there would be some trading between the Shafroth and Jefferson factions today on the nominations still pending.

Pledges of radical legislation contained in the state platform of 1908, for the redemption of which the legislature was summoned to sit in extra session by Governor Shafroth last month and the greater part of which the legislature is still considering, are reaffirmed in the platform to be voted on by the convention today.

U. S. Senator Simon Guggenheim is denounced.

The "Palme-Aldrich" law is denounced as a revision upward in the interest of the trusts in violation of the oft-repeated promises of the republican presidential candidate and a prompt and thorough revision of the tariff as demanded by the last democratic national convention is urged.

A law abolishing the smelter trust and regulating smelting charges is demanded in the interest of both mine operators and miners.

ADOLPH ROTHBARTH

ALLEGED SWINDLER IS BROKEN
IN SPIRIT

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Broken in spirit, Adolph Rothbarth, representative in America of the hop-dealing firm of Rothbarth & Co., who confessed to swindling the banks out of nearly $150,000, sent down word from his cell in the Tombs prison today that he "didn't want a lawyer" and that the senior his trial was over the quicker he could pay the penalty.

Racing Dory Destroyed
by Fire

NEWBURYPORT, Sept. 15.—Catching fire from a defective spark plug in the gasoline engine, the racing power boat Redskin, said to be the fastest racing dory in New England, was destroyed today. Her owner, F. C. Beal of Haverhill, was in the boat and was rescued from the burning craft by a party of men in a dory nearby. Mr. Beal places his loss at $2000.

Thought to Have Been Wrecked

VINEYARD HAVEN, Sept. 15.—Visions of a wreck of a fruit steamer were seen here today when the British schooner Crescent put in and reported that while off Cape Ann yesterday she sailed through thousands of bunches of bananas but could sight no wreckage. An investigation followed immediately, which dispelled all fear that a fruiter had gone to the bottom of the ocean for it was learned that a cargo of fruit consigned to a Boston fruit concern had been thrown overboard because it was over-ripe.

APPRAISAL OF PROPERTY
CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 15.—W. J. Hobbs, fourth vice-president of the Boston & Maine railroad, filed with the state board of equalization today an appraisal of the road's rolling stock, and equipment of the Boston & Maine railroad and its leased and operated lines in New Hampshire. The appraisal is made by George M. Thompson of Wakefield, Mass., civil engineer and shows that, according to his figures, the aggregate amount of the actual value of the roads, rolling stock and equipment of the Boston & Maine properties and those of all its leased and main lines in the state of New Hampshire, first day of April last, was $35,014,407.87, representing 1,027.33 miles of road.

The valuation as figured by the board of equalization is about $13,000,000 less than the gross valuation as established last year and approximately less by $8,000,000 than the valuation which they fixed for the purpose of taxation, the total being 64 per cent. of the true valuation.

Mr. Hobbs also submitted to the board today an affidavit of Morton Bradley of Arlington, Mass., expert accountant, containing a great mass of figures stated by him to show that the average rate at which taxable property of all kinds throughout the state is valued for purposes of taxation is 48.08 per cent. of its market value.

CAR LINE IMPROVEMENTS NEAR TOWER'S CORNER

In the above picture is shown the single track on Gorham street for outward cars only. All the inward cars from Gorham and Appleton streets will pass through New Appleton street to Central street on their way to Merrimack square. The change from double to single track on that section of Gorham street will relieve the congestion in front of the post office. The line through New Appleton street will be opened to traffic as soon as the street department shall have completed the smooth paving. The connections with the Lawrence street line are now being used by cars running in that direction.

VOTE IS A TIE

No Choice in One Maine
District

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 15.—The last town was heard from today on the gubernatorial vote in Monday's election. It was Woodville, a small town in Penobscot county which has neither telephone nor telegraph service. Woodville did not follow the lead of the most of the other cities, towns and plantations by turning over to the usually minority party, but recorded 15 votes for Governor Fernald and nine for Col. Plaisted. This increased Col. Plaisted's total vote to 73,501. Governor Fernald's to 64,687. These two ballots here slips of paper used as stickers on which Mr. Peters' name was stamped with a rubber stamp in red ink. These ballots may be thrown out as having identifying marks. It was understood today of good authority that should a tie be declared and a new election ordered, Mr. Peters would withdraw from the contest in favor of his opponent, Mr. Peters had been a candidate for the speakership before the democratic landslide in Hancock county.

WILSON IN LEAD

For the Nomination for Governor

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 15.—Woodruff Wilson, president of Princeton university, appears to be in the lead for the democratic nomination for governor. Col. George Harvey, who has been active for Mr. Wilson, and James Smith, Jr., former United States senator and leader of the North Jersey democracy, are working hard for the success of the distinguished educator and they maintain that he will be nominated on the first ballot. Friends of Frank S. Katzenbach, former mayor of Trenton, and the party candidate for governor three years ago, insist that Katzenbach will be the choice of the convention. The convention meets in the Trenton opera house at noon today. J. R. Hardin of Essex county was named as temporary chairman. One of the big fights in the convention was expected to be over the adoption of a set of rules to permit Hudson county to follow its usual practice of voting its delegation solidly. Mayor Witten of Jersey City has about 85 of the 235 Hudson delegates and his supporters will not submit to a unit rule. The rules as prepared by direction of State Chairman Nugent permit the carrying out of the unit rule in Hudson county.

ASIATIC CHOLERA

DANZIG, Prussia, Sept. 15.—A bacteriological examination in three fatal cases has established that death in each instance was due to Asiatic cholera. Fifteen new suspected cases of cholera here were placed under observation today.

FUNERALS

TWOMEY.—The funeral of Francis Twomey, beloved son of Hugh J. and Mary (Cushing) Twomey, was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of his parents, 10 Livingston street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. Laid upon the grave were the following floral offerings: mammoth pillow with ribbon inscribed "Baby Francis" from Brother Hugh; large spray of pinks from Mrs. Twomey; spray of asters, Mr. Michael Cushing; basket of carnations, Mr. John Cushing; basket of assorted flowers, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Murphy; spray of white asters with ribbon inscribed "Cousin" from Mulvey children; basket of roses and asters, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Murphy. The funeral cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's cemetery where the burial took place in the family lot. Undertaker John A. Finnegan in charge.

HELD IN $50,000

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—George W. Fitzgerald, arrested yesterday, charged with the theft of $173,000 from the sub-treasury three years ago, was admitted to bail in $50,000 today. He protests his innocence.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

WALTHAM, Sept. 15.—Charged with manslaughter, William Norton, gate-man at a local crossing of the Boston & Maine railroad, was held in $2000 bail in the district court today for a hearing Sept. 29. It is charged that Norton failed to lower the gates in time to prevent Louis Liberman from driving his wagon across the track yesterday, resulting in the wagon being hit by a train and Liberman killed.

LORIMER MAY WIN

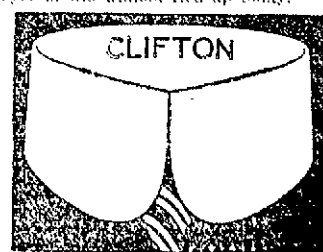

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 15.—Outside of Cook county interest in today's primaries was chiefly in the state legislative nominations. Echoes of the election of United States Senator William Lorimer were heard in practically every district.

KENTUCKY PRIMARIES

LONDON, Ky., Sept. 15.—The eleventh congressional district of Kentucky is excited today over the republican primaries in which D. C. Edwards, incumbent, and Caleb Powers, former secretary of state, are opposing candidates for congress. Powers' eight years' imprisonment, "martyrdom," because of his alleged connection with the Gobel assassination, has been used in appealing for votes.

SYSTEM TIED UP

VIENNA, Sept. 15.—A campaign of passive resistance, the Austrian equivalent to a strike, went into effect on the Southern railroad system at midnight last night in consequence of a wage dispute. The men followed implicitly the exact letter of the rules and regulations of the lines with the result that the system was almost tied up today.

DEALERS OBJECT

To Proposed New Demurrage Rules

The Lowell board of trade will oppose the proposed new demurrage rules recently adopted by the railroads of New England which will reduce the hours allowed local concerns of cities and towns to empty the contents of the freight cars from 96 to 48 hours under the usual penalty of so much per car per day. Secretary Murphy of the board and some of the representatives of the local firms whose business requires the use of the cars have decided to unite in their efforts in an endeavor to remedy this new rule, to some extent at least. If the new rules go into effect a number of local concerns will be paying demurrage bills.

The board of trade has voted to affiliate itself with the Association of Commercial Organizations of the United States. This association is composed of representatives of boards of trade from all of the principal cities of the east, and its officers are principally from the New York Merchants' association, the Boston chamber of commerce, Philadelphia Manufacturers' association and the New Orleans board of trade. The association proposed to go before the interstate commerce commission with a petition relative to alleged excessive charges of the express companies and the lax methods of these companies in dealing with money orders.

SUSPECTS HELD

In Connection With the Stowaway Cases

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Two men were detained as suspects by the police today for the alleged attempt to stow away twenty Italians on board the White Star Canopic which sailed yesterday for Italian ports. Their names were withheld until a definite charge could be laid against them. One of the alleged stowaways claimed that he identified the men under arrest as involved in the smuggling of the Italians on board the vessel. This stowaway told the police that the 20 Italians gave $22 apiece to one of the men last Tuesday night and that the other man accompanied them to the Charlestown bridge later that night whence, he alleged, that two members of the Canopic's crew smuggled them aboard the liner from small boats.

THE MAURETANIA

Is Trying for a New Record

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Driven at top speed, the ocean grayhound Mauretania is nearing port today in an effort to hang up a new transatlantic record for the short course. The giant Cunarder holds the record of 4 days, 10 hours and 51 minutes from Daunt's Rock to Ambrose channel lightship, just outside New York harbor. To equal her old record the Cunarder must reach the lightship at 3.59 o'clock this afternoon.

VESSEL GROUNDED
VINEYARD HAVEN, Sept. 15.—With both pumps working to keep the vessel from sinking the three-masted schooner Fannie and Fay, bound from Port Johnson for Stonington, Me., made this port today and was grounded in the harbor. While trying to weather Cape Cod during a strong northeast wind yesterday the craft sprang a leak off Nauset and it was decided to beach to this port. The leak will be repaired here and the vessel will proceed to her destination.

TO SPEND $13,000,000
WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The government of Uruguay proposed to spend under a recently enacted law more than thirteen millions in improvements and extensions of the port works in the harbor of Montevideo. Consul Godding of Montevideo is optimistic over the chance of an American firm obtaining the contract.

HERE, MADAM!
LESSON No 1

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY of Providence, R. I., has arranged with Madelain Moss, a graduate of Teachers College, Columbia University, and for many years a practical teacher in New York, for a series of lessons on Domestic Science and Household Economy.

These lessons will be absolutely free. All that is necessary for you to obtain them, is to come to our store and signify your willingness by filling out an application-blank.

Remember you will not be urged to buy anything, nor will you have to pay one single cent for these practical, interesting lessons. Each week one lesson will be ready for distribution; you will find yours waiting for you in an envelope addressed to you.

The subjects which will be taught will include:—The Nutritive Values of Various Foods and How to Prepare Them; there will be recipes for cooking dainty and practical dishes; they will suggest means of building up the children's minds and bodies; they will go into the question of what cuts of meats to buy; and in short, the information contained in these lessons will be so valuable, and of such every day use to every housewife in this city, that we believe that you will find it to your interest to accept our invitation to enroll your name in the BARSTOW FREE SCHOOL OF DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

As an example of what you may expect, we reproduce herewith a copy of Lesson No. 1.

The subject of Lesson No. 2 is "How to Preserve Grapes."

LESSON No. 1

In taking up the task of trying to teach the principles of domestic economy to women of this city, I feel a great responsibility. I have a keen appreciation of your needs and I think I will be able to show you, in many ways, how to effect small economies in your household expenses, and to show you how to make the dollars stretch to the fullest limits.

Now, while the money part of housekeeping is always the biggest item, no less important is the proper cooking of the food you place on the table for your family, so the lessons I am going to teach will take up in a simple way what to cook; how to cook it; what the nutritive values of the various kinds of foods are, and in short, I am going to cover during the next six months, as many phases of this interesting question as is possible.

I am going to start off the course with

"A SIMPLE BREAKFAST"

MENU
Orange Juice	Oatmeal with Cream
Toast	Soft Cooked Eggs	French Coffee

This delicious breakfast can be prepared with little trouble and expense. All the foods necessary for body and brain development are included in it. By little trouble I do not mean that you can prepare this breakfast in five minutes time, nor do I mean that you will have to sit in the kitchen for two or three hours while the cereal is being prepared. I would suggest that you cook this the day before and when ready to serve in the morning just reheat it. It would be wise to carefully select your coffee. In my own household experience, and in all classes I teach, I advise the use of a blend of Mocha and Java and which can be had at most grocers for about 25 cents a pound. A saving here is always followed by inferior coffee, and since coffee is so important a part of the enjoyment of a meal, it is hardly worth while to stint on just that one particular.

The following are the recipes for preparing the menu above outlined. Read over each menu carefully and see to it that you thoroughly understand what is wanted.

RECIPES

Oat Meal (H. O.) or Rolled Oats *
1/2 Cup Rolled Oats
1/2 Cup Water
1/2 Cup Milk
1/2 Teaspoon Salt

METHOD—Stir one-half cup of rolled oats into the three-quarter cup of boiling, salted water. Let this cook in a double boiler for three hours. Lastly stir in the milk. If necessary to hasten the cooking of a cereal, boil it from 15 to 20 minutes directly over the flame, then finish cooking it in a double boiler.

SOFT-COOKED EGGS

Put water in a saucepan, let it come to a boiling point, lower the eggs into it with a spoon so as not to break them. See that there is plenty of boiling water to cover them. Remove at once from fire. Let them stand covered in this boiling water from eight to ten minutes, according to taste. This is the most digestible way of cooking eggs, as it coagulates the albumen without hardening it.

TOAST

Stale bread is preferable both for economy and quality. Cut the bread in slices about one-half inch thick, leaving the slices whole, and do not remove crusts, as this is the most healthful part of bread or toast. Lay bread on a toaster, hold over a bright flame, turning frequently so that it becomes an even brown on both sides. Toast may be buttered at once (better not to for health's sake). This may be done by melting butter in a saucepan and pouring it over toast (this is a more economical way than spreading the toast with butter).

FRENCH COFFEE (Enough for Four Cups)

1/2 Cup Ground Coffee
3 Cups Boiling Water

METHOD—Put the coffee in the strainer of French coffee pot. Place pot on back of stove. Gradually add the boiling water, half cup at a time, keeping the pot covered between times. The coffee may be poured through the strainer a second time, this makes it stronger.

BOGUS MARQUIS

Has Been Arrested as an Alleged Card Sharper

BERLIN, Sept. 15.—The "Marquis de la Ramee" has been arrested at The Hague at the request of the German police. He is wanted here on charges of fraud, obtaining money by false pretenses, using a fictitious title and practicing card sharpening.

When arrested the "Marquis" was living at a hotel with his wife and a number of servants. He attracted much attention from the other guests by frequenting the corridors and lounge in an ornate dressing gown. The police have discovered that his real name is Bela Klimm and that he is the son of a former lecturer at the Technical college at Budapest.

His father left him $20,000 when he was 15 years old. He soon became involved with a notorious card sharper named Hauer, who used him as a decoy to attract wealthy victims in Continental cities. Hauer, after winning $7,500 from Klimm in one night, generously remitted the debt on condition that Klimm would join the gang and utilize his good appearance to enter society.

Hauer made a careful search for an extinct title and that of De la Ramee was selected, the last member of the family having died more than a century ago.

Hauer discovered in Paris a poor workman named Marie de Ramee, whose wife was the daughter of a shoe maker. This couple formally adopted Klimm and authorized him to call himself La Ramee. Hauer and Klimm, by bold forgeries, changed the legal documents certifying the adoption of the name La Ramee into a patent of nobility, bearing the title Marquis de la Ramee. A second document was then forged, which made it appear that Klimm really was entitled to bear the title of marquis.

Thus equipped, Klimm found no difficulty in obtaining access to the best society circles in several Continental capitals. After becoming a conspicuous figure in Paris, he settled in Berlin and obtained the entrée to the homes of leading families and to exclusive clubs. Last spring the "Marquis" won the hand of Fraulein Alice Hecht, daughter of the late Berlin millionaire and married her in London, despite the opposition of her widowed mother.

Instead of the huge dowry he expected, Klimm found that his bride had only $5,000, not enough to pay his tutor's bill. He got deeper in debt. Finally a man named Margolin, one of a gang of international swindlers, who was arrested two days ago in St. Petersburg for debts and forgeries amounting to $250,000, came to his aid. Margolin took an obscure actress, wearing a thick veil, to the house of a well known money lender, where she pretended to be the widow of the late Millionaire Hecht. She signed a mortgage on Herr Hecht's property and the money lender advanced her about $50,000, which Margolin and Klimm shared leaving the country together.

A number of people in good society have been swindled by Margolin and the "Marquis." The latter's trial will be one of the celebrated cases of the year. Much sympathy is felt for the luckless Alice Hecht.

NARROW ESCAPE

Aviator Harkness Near to Death

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Harry S. Harkness, the aviator of Cleveland and a member of a prominent family in that city, had a narrow escape from death today when the monoplane in which he was flying at Garden City, L. I. dived suddenly to the ground from a height of 25 feet. Harkness' machine was demolished, but he escaped injury.

This was Harkness' first flight in America. He has been known abroad for his feats in aviation and came to America to enter the elimination trials for the International aviation meet next month.

DIED SUDDENLY

LYNN, Sept. 15.—Elmer Humphrey, 16 years of age, superintendent of the General Electric company here, died suddenly today, his body being found in front of his home. The medical examiner who was called stated that death was due to enlargement of the heart. Mr. Humphrey was a prominent in social circles here.

COL. QUINN DECLINES

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 15.—Colonel P. H. Quinn of Warwick, who has been mentioned as a candidate for governor declined today to have his name come before the democratic state convention on Sept. 29 in a letter to Chairman F. H. Fessenden of the state committee. Col. Quinn stated that in view of the party's victory in Maine a democratic nomination for governor of Rhode Island this year is equivalent to an election.

WHITNEY'S HORSE WON

GREAT YARMOUTH, Eng., Sept. 15.—The East Anglian plate of 150 sovereigns for three years and up, distance one mile straight, was won today by H. P. Whitney's Newcastle II. Hartog's was second and the Woodford colt third. Six horses ran.

CHOLERA CASES

ALMERIA, Spain, Sept. 15.—There are 14 suspected cases of cholera on board the coasting steamer Aptoline, which arrived here today from Alexandria. The vessel has been isolated and the sick placed under observation.

MATRON ATTACKED

By Man Who Tried to Set Fire to Dormitory

ANDOVER, N. H., Sept. 15.—The police of every town and city in this section of New Hampshire are today searching for an unknown man who last night when baffled in his attempt to start a fire in the basement of the girls' dormitory at Proctor academy here struck the matron, Mrs. Eugene Sawyer, over the head with a stick of wood and then escaped. Mrs. Sawyer lies today in a serious condition. Only a meagre description of the man was secured.

Called to the basement of the dormitory, Mrs. Sawyer arrived there just in time to see the man applying a match to a pile of cordwood. When she uttered a cry of alarm the man seized a stick of wood and struck Mrs. Sawyer over the head, rendering her unconscious. The man disappeared immediately afterwards. The cries of the woman had attracted some men nearby and seeing the pile of wood on fire they ran for a pall of water and put out the blaze. Mrs. Sawyer was removed to the upper floor of the dormitory and a physician was called to attend her. No motive can be given by the academy authorities for the man's attempt to set fire to the dormitory and they have no idea who he is.

PRESIDENT TAFT

To Treat All Party Leaders on Same Footing

BEVERLY, Sept. 15.—Recognizing no difference between "progressives" and "regulars," but looking upon all as republicans, President Taft will treat all party leaders on the same footing hereafter. The president's views in the matter were expressed today in a letter written by Secretary Norton to a prominent republican leader of Iowa whose name was withheld.

In the letter Secretary Norton states that while pending republican legislation in congress was opposed by certain republican leaders, the president felt that his duty to the party and to the country required him to withhold federal patronage from those senators and representatives who seemed to be in opposition to the efforts of the administration to fulfill the promises of the party platform.

That attitude, however, ended with the primary elections and nominating conventions in which the people have declared themselves, and now the president looks upon the "progressives" and "regulars" only as republicans, entitled to his support and support of the party. In future all will be treated alike and federal patronage will be restored to those from whom it was withheld.

Mr. Norton's letter to the Iowa leader follows:

"Beverly, Mass., Sept. 15, 1910.

"Your letters of the 9th are at hand and I have delayed replying until after the primaries. The president directs me to express to you and to your friends his deep appreciation of the work which you have done and the powerful assistance which you have extended to the administration from the beginning—an assistance that he contributed much to the legislative and other successes which have been secured. The president recognizes that your efforts have been wholly disinterested and generously for what you believed to be his interest and the welfare and success of the party. While republican legislation pending in congress was opposed by certain republican leaders, the president felt that his duty to the party and to the country required him to withhold federal patronage from those senators and representatives who seemed to be in opposition to the efforts of the administration to fulfill the promises of the party platform.

BITTER FIGHTS

In the Primaries in Illinois Today

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Alleged corruption in the Illinois legislature, revealed in the trial of Lee O'Neil Brown, charged with bribery in the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate, jackpot politics and a plea for vindication on the part of men whose names were brought into trial are issues in the primary election here today. In most of the congressional districts insurgency is an issue and in several districts there are bitter fights.

The primary is the first under Illinois third primary law. It is expected to give a demonstration of the workings of the cumulative system that was looked for when the bill was framed. With a view of making the law constitutional a section was inserted allowing voters to pick one, two or three candidates or distribute three votes as he sees fit. Candidates have instructed their supporters to cast three votes for them.

Congressman Mann, chairman of the committee of interstate and foreign commerce, a staunch supporter of Speaker Cannon has two adversaries, both running on insurgent platforms. So has Henry Buntell in the ninth district. Congressman Foss, also aligned with the regulars has a contest against an insurgent candidate.

PLEADS GUILTY

Man Admits Larceny of $10,000

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Adolph Rothbarth of the firm of Martin Rothbarth & Co., hop dealers, with offices in London, Frankfurt and St. Petersburg, pleaded guilty yesterday to the larceny of $10,000 from the Mercantile national bank and was held for trial in an equal amount of bail.

He had been under surveillance 48 hours and his arrest occurred after a long conference between the district attorney's office and a coterie of bankers, with whom he has had dealings. "Your honor," said the assistant district attorney in charge of the case, "although the specific amount named in this complaint is only $10,000, the actual amount this bank alone has lost will come to more than $100,000, but ask only this small bail because the prisoner has admitted that he did wrong and promises to afford the prosecution every aid in his power."

The money was in speculation according to Rothbarth's own admission. "I was squeezed in the panic of 1907," he said, "and began to get loans from the banks. It was so easy that I kept on."

F. S. Schenk, president of the Liberty national bank, gave out a statement yesterday of the bank's dealings with Rothbarth. "We have not thought it necessary to prosecute," he said, "in view of the action taken by the Mercantile national bank, but none the less we also are out $15,000. Of course, we shall take action to get back as much of it as we can from the man."

"We have been doing business with Martin Rothbarth & Co. for more than three years. The loans given to Adolph Rothbarth in behalf of his firm cover a period of about that time. The loans made were of varying amounts, but in January, 1910, they were all paid up. Later Rothbarth began borrowing again."

"On a statement made by him on Aug. 31, that the credits of the firm aggregated $1,200,000, we advanced him $75,000. When we learned later that he got loans from other banks, we investigated and found that the statement made to us was false. All the previous transactions had been very businesslike."

Three other banks are said to be involved, but their names have not yet come out. It is said that by juggling loans among them, Rothbarth was able to keep as much as $500,000 in the air at once. He could not give the bail demanded and had to spend the night in the Tombs.

"Sincerely yours,
Charles D. Norton,
Secretary to the President."

In the opinion of politicians at Beverly the views of President Taft as expressed in Secretary Norton's letter to the unnamed Iowa leader should not be taken as a concession to "messengers." As the party leaders view, the situation Iowa is not violently insurgent. The Iowa republican platform, it is pointed out, has subscribed to such efforts as President Taft and his advisers have made to fulfill the promises of the national platform.

It is also shown that the Iowa platform further approved "the effort of the president to secure the desired information for a tariff revision through a board of experts."

Among those from whom the president temporarily withheld federal patronage were Senators La Follette of Wisconsin, Brewster of Kansas and Doolittle and Cummings of Iowa and Representative Hubbard of Iowa.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Was Fifty-three Years Old Today

BEVERLY, Sept. 15.—President Taft is 53 years old today. Many congratulatory letters and telegrams were received by the president at his home here but there was no particular celebration today. In the morning the president and Secretary Norton golfed together on the links of the Myopia Country club. No visitors were expected at the summer White House during the day.

AT ST. PETER'S

HOLY NAME SOCIETY TO HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING

The meeting of St. Peter's Holy Name society tonight in the Fair hall promises to be an interesting session as several important matters will be considered. The plans for the fall and winter will be outlined at the meeting, and hence a full attendance is expected by Mr. F. Burns and President Lyons. Arrangements for the communion day in October will also be made at tonight's session.

WORLD'S SERIES

MAY NOT BEGIN BEFORE 16TH OF OCTOBER

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 15.—Chairman Herrmann of the national commission said yesterday that he had practically given up hope of seeing the world's baseball series begin before Oct. 16, the day after the St. Louis Nationals and Chicago Cubs are scheduled to play the last game of the season.

Two weeks have passed since the national commission instructed President Lynch to meet with President Murphy of the Cubs and President Robison of St. Louis and attempt to induce them to arrange their schedule so that the world's series could be started a week earlier. Lynch has made no progress and as several games which were to have been played by the Cubs and St. Louis have been postponed on account of bad weather since that time there is hardly a chance of an arrangement being made which will permit the world's series to be played at an earlier date than the present schedule will allow.

THE FIGHTER

HILLIARD BOOTH'S NEW PLAY

PRESENTED SUCCESSFULLY

DETROIT, Sept. 15.—George Fawcett presented at the Garrick theatre here last night a new play entitled "The Fighter," by Hilliard Booth, being a dramatic version of Albert Payson Terhune's novel, "Caleb Coker." It is a play with a big theme, dealing with the political struggle between reform as represented by the people and the machine as represented by the bosses.

For years Caleb Coker has been the boss of a middle west city. He makes the unity of Cleveland Standish, leader of the reform league, and the battle for supremacy between the two men furnishes the main incidents of the four acts of the little play. Mr. Fawcett's characterization is an excellent one. He is fast establishing himself as one of the leading male stars of the American stage.

The production was made under the direction of the Messrs. Shubert. The piece is slated for an early New York hearing.

GOVERNMENT CROP REPORTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Government crop reports for October will include one on Monday, October 17, and another on Tuesday, October 18, as estimated by the department of agriculture, and one on the same date from the census bureau, giving the first ginners report of actual cotton ginned. The report on the condition of cotton will be the last regular cotton condition report of the season. The estimate of total production will be made in December. On Monday, October 24th, at 2:30 p. m., there will be issued by the department of agriculture a crop summary as follows:

Condition, either on October 1 or at the time of harvest, of corn, buckwheat, potatoes, tobacco, flax seed, apples, rice, yield per acre, total production, (preliminary estimate) and quality of spring wheat, oats and barley.

A supplementary report will be issued on Tuesday, October 18, giving a review of the crop situation as of October 1, which will include crops not included in the report of the previous day.

PAPAL NUNCIO RETURNS

MADRID, Sept. 15.—Mig. Vico, the papal nuncio at Madrid has returned from Seville after a month's stay at the summer resort and with his companion in the capital the nuncio's appearance in the capital is proceeding with renewed activity.

Great preparations under the direction of the prelates are being made for the inauguration of a series of manifestations and meetings of protest to be held throughout the country on Oct. 2, the day before the cortes reassembles.

Particular care will be taken that the meetings assume a patriotic and peaceful character. Hostility toward the prelates is growing in court circles, many of the ladies of the court having already signified an intention to remain in retirement so long as Premier Canalejas continues in power.

ONE MAN KILLED ARRESTED TELLER

Another Seriously Injured in Bank Official Charged With the Grade Crossing Accident Larceny of $173,000

WALTHAM, Sept. 15.—Louis Liberman, aged 21, was killed and Jacob Nussbaum was seriously injured and William Norton, a gateman, was placed under arrest as the result of a grade crossing accident in this city shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Liberman was employed as a driver by Simon Carter, a local junk dealer, and Nussbaum as a helper.

The accident occurred on the Elm street crossing, 200 feet east of the station on the Fitchburg division of the B. & M. railroad.

The express, in charge of Conductor Johnson, out of Boston at 2.45 and due in this city at 3.04, struck the junk wagon in charge of Liberman and Nussbaum. The wagon was heavily loaded with baled rags, being carted to the freight sheds for shipment.

Liberman driving the wagon and Nussbaum on the seat with him approached the crossing from Carter street. Seeing the gates up the men started to cross the tracks. Just as the team got fairly on the crossing the express came upon them. The men had no opportunity to jump nor did the engine have time to stop, his train, and the engine struck the wagon amidships, crushing the horse, wagon and rags in all directions.

Liberman, who was unconscious when picked up, was placed in an express wagon and taken at once to the hospital. He died before reaching there. His skull was fractured and he was badly cut and bruised.

Nussbaum was thrown onto the grass plot just east of the depot and lay there in a dazed condition until Dr. H. C. Wood arrived. He took the man to the hospital. It could not be determined last night how seriously Nussbaum was injured.

Officer Acts Quickly
The horse was thrown across the tracks and landed on its back on the east bound track. The animal was bleeding badly from the mouth, but it was later helped to its feet and led to Mr. Carter's barn on Pelton street. The wagon was demolished. The rags were scattered all over the tracks for some distance.

Among the first to reach the scene of the accident was Inspector William P. McKenna. After making a number of inquiries he placed Gateman Norton under arrest and took him to the station.

There were a number of eye witnesses to the accident and every one of them agree that the gates were high in the air at the time the wagon was struck. One man said that Norton was asleep at the time and was awakened when the engine struck the wagon.

The police say that Norton told conflicting stories, and his appearance indicated, they say, that he had been drinking. They assert he first said the CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—George W. Fitzgerald, a former asserting teller in the Chicago Federal sub-treasury, was arrested yesterday by deputy U. S. marshals charged with the theft of $173,000 which mysteriously disappeared from the Chicago sub-treasury on February 19, 1907.

Fitzgerald was arrested on a bench warrant, based on an indictment returned secretly by a federal grand jury on February 17, 1910. The fact of the indictment was suppressed until yesterday. Three days after the indictment was returned, it was announced that the statute of limitations operated to stop possible criminal action in the case.

Coincident with this case, secret service men were detailed to watch Fitzgerald constantly, and to make a rigid investigation of the former teller's financial interests and affairs. The discoveries made by these detectives resulted in the order for Fitzgerald's arrest.

Fitzgerald was taken into custody at his insurance brokerage offices in La Salle street, just as the former sub-treasury teller was leaving for home. Fitzgerald was first taken to United States Marshal Hoy's office where he was searched. He was then handcuffed and placed in a cell. Fitzgerald objected to the search and was handled somewhat roughly by the marshals. After an hour's imprisonment, Fitzgerald was taken before Judge K. M. Landis. He was formally arraigned and his bail was fixed at $3,000. Being unable to give bond in this sum, he was taken to jail.

Attaches of the district attorney's office declare that since the disappearance of the $173,000 from the sub-treasury, Fitzgerald has done the following things:

Organized the Illinois Car Manufacturing company, with a $50,000 plant at Hammond, Ind.

Organized the Illinois Bolt, Nut & Forging Co., with a large plant in Chicago.

Dealt extensively in stocks and bonds.

Moved from a moderate flat to a $10,000 residence which he paid for and furnished extensively.

Lived in costly style, and entertained friends lavishly.

CURTIS GUILD

Gave Luncheon to the President's Cabinet

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 15.—Curtis Guild, representing the United States as special ambassador during the celebration of Mexico's centennial of independence yesterday, gave a luncheon to members of the president's cabinet, government officials, special ambassadors and commissioners and resident diplomats and ladies in the Chapultepec cafe. He assured his hearers in an address delivered in Spanish that his government sought no new territory or control, and that its greatest desire was "peace and honor" and the winning of "equal honor and respect for all America in every part of the world."

Foreign Minister Enrique C. Criel responded to the sentiments expressed by Mr. Guild, thanking him in the name of his government and proposing the health of President Taft and the American nation.

President Diaz was not present, but designated Vice-President Corral to represent him.

After the luncheon, the entire party attended a musicale and tea prepared by Mrs. Diaz in the presidential summer palace.

A NEW TREATY

BETWEEN UNITED STATES AND CANADA IS PROPOSED

BEVERLY, Mass., Sept. 15.—Negotiations for a reciprocity treaty between the United States and Canada will be opened next month. It was learned yesterday that the British ambassador, Mr. Bryce, has accepted to the negotiations being carried on directly between Canada and the United States without the formality of being conducted through the British embassy.

The details of the negotiations have not been arranged as yet but it is the hope of President Taft that before the end of October the representatives of both countries will be able to come together. Whether the United States will send delegates to Canada or whether Canada will send its representatives to the United States is not yet known. Neither it is known whether any agreement that may be reached will be made effective by concurrent legislation or by treaty.

The reciprocity idea will meet with considerable opposition in both countries but it is believed that the Canadian opposition is more pronounced than that in the United States, chiefly because of the growth of Canadian manufacturing enterprises. The Canadian premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, has declared in favor of the proposed agreement and it is felt here that the nation will be more inclined to support it than in the past.

The president it is known is deeply interested in the matter and considers it of the greatest importance.

GOV. HUGHES

DELIVERS VALEDICTORY TO PEOPLE OF NEW YORK

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Surrounded by an enthusiastic audience of more than 5000 persons, Gov. Charles E. Hughes, guest at the state fair, yesterday delivered his valedictory address to the people of New York state.

In the audience were leading financiers, State officers, legislators, politicians and private citizens from all sections of the state and the reception given the governor was more hearty than any he had ever received here. Later when the governor made a tour of the exposition grounds, he was followed by cheering throngs. There were 55,000 persons at the fair and practically all joined in the demonstration.

Of especial interest in his speech, was the governor's final word on the subject of direct primaries:

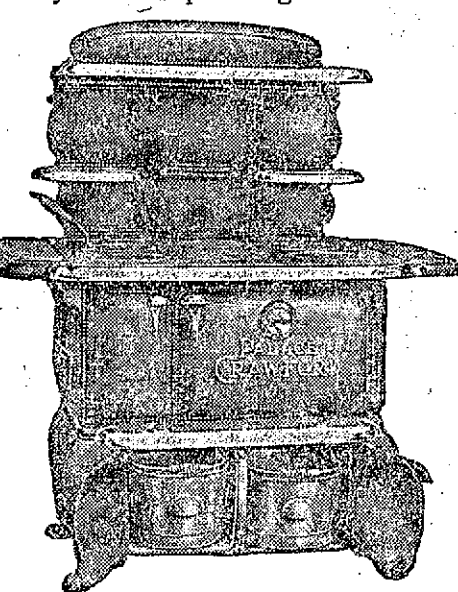

"As for the most part our people act through political parties," he said, "it is of the highest importance to their true liberty that action within the parties should be free and both with respect to candidacies and the selection of party managers, should be based on the direct vote of party members. Under our system representative government cannot be deemed to be securely based, if through complicated machinery, the selections of our great political parties are left to the determination of caucuses."

The Cooks who have used the Single Damper of the Crawford Ranges will never go back to the troublesome two-damper range

The cost of the food spoiled by mistakes in regulating the ordinary two-damper ranges amounts to a large sum.

The Single Damper of the Crawford affords absolute fire and oven control by one motion—slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check," the range does the rest.

The Oven of the Crawford has cup-joint heat flues which heat everywhere alike and make it the quickest and surest of bakers.

The Two Hods (patented) in the base—one for ashes instead of the old clumsy ash pan—one for coal, is a great trouble-saving feature.

Gas Ovens and Broilers above or at end of range, if desired.

Health and Beauty Queries

BY MRS. MAE MARTIN

E. B. S.: Although gray hair is sometimes caused by worry, it is generally due to a diseased scalp as indicated by such symptoms as the dandruff, itching scalp and brittle, falling hair of which you speak. To restore your scalp to a healthy condition, first keep it clean by shampooing every ten days or two weeks with castile soap, then massage the scalp, using a good quality hair tonic. You can prepare the tonic yourself by adding one ounce of quinine to a half-pint of alcohol and a half-pint of cold water. This is much better than most ready-prepared hair tonics. It will remove the dandruff and stop your hair from coming out. You will find it an ideal dressing for the hair and very refreshing to an itching scalp.

B. M. D.: (a) Do not let your superfluous flesh worry you. Even though you have spent many dollars trying different so-called "flesh reducers" without any of them doing a bit of good, the remedy is simple. Take a few minutes each day to exercise. You will have many friends who tell me they did wonders for them. Get four ounces of paraffin from any drug store, dilute it with 12 ounces of water and take a tablespoonful a few minutes before each meal. It is harmless and will cut down your fat rapidly without the necessity of fasting or strenuous exercising. (b) That good evening remedy you ask for is called luxur.

A. F. S.: To be sure, health and beauty go hand in hand. Indigestion and sluggish liver cause impure blood, which in turn breeds ugly blotches, which are the marks of approaching age and which are the result of a few minutes before each meal. It is harmless and will cut down your fat rapidly without the necessity of fasting or strenuous exercising. (b) That good evening remedy you ask for is called luxur.

G. E. A.: It may be all right to use dry shampoo powder where you are very careful to brush out all of the powder; otherwise it will clog the pores in the scalp and cause dandruff, the very thing you should avoid. To keep your hair looking bright and healthy and make it stay in curl, you must not use a shampoo that contains alkali, as soaps and most shampoos do. Dissolve a teaspoonful of caustic soda in a cup of hot water and you have a shampoo that can't be excelled. It will remove all excess oil and dirt, and leave your scalp free from irritation. This shampoo does quickly without causing streaky, faded patches in the hair. It will make your hair soft and shiny so it will stay up and look nice without the use of a hair net or veil.

W. H.: If my eyes continually had that tired, overworked feeling you say yours do, I would lose no time getting a good tonic for them. My eyes are inclined to be weak and I keep them in good condition by using a simple, inexpensive remedy made by dissolving an ounce of crystals in a pint of water. A few drops in each eye occasionally will really relieve inflammation and make one's eyes bright and sparkling. Try this and I am sure you will not need to wear glasses. It is a splendid tonic for weak, watery eyes, also granulated lids.

teaspoonfuls glycerine and one-half pint cold water; stir briskly and let stand over night. Where applied frequently you will find an excellent cream for removing wrinkles, blackheads, freckles, roughness and other skin blemishes. It will leave the skin smooth, clear and velvety, and is a matchless preparation for massaging and reducing the size of large pores in the skin.

At once I know of no exercise that will give plumpness to a thin and scrawny figure. To have well-rounded curves you must assimilate the food you eat; have good digestion and good circulation. A splendid prescription originated and developed by a skilled physician, contains ova testis, lecithin, and cod liver oil, and is one of the most beneficial and expensive flesh makers known.

T. J.: Plain detelone is the best thing I ever heard of to remove superfluous hairs from the face and forehead. It is derived from the yucca and electric needle, is painless and does not hurt. Of course, the hairs may return, but if they do they will be thin and high, and almost unnoticeable. A second or third application will rid you permanently of the annoying hairs. Detelone costs a dollar an ounce, but one ounce is all that is ever needed. Simply mix a little detelone with enough water to form a paste; cover the skin from forehead to neck with this paste; let it remain three minutes, then wipe off and wash with warm water.

Mary P.: By devoting just a little time each day to the care of your complexion, you can ward off the marks of approaching age and have the same attractive, youthful-looking features as your younger friends. Use a good greaseless complexion cream (see answer to Doris) and instead of clogging up the pores of your skin with face powder, get a dependable lotion and use it exclusively. You can make such a lotion by buying four ounces of eucalyptus from any drug store and dissolving it in one-half pint hot water; then add two teaspoonfuls glycerine and when cold, apply freely to your face, neck and arms. This lotion is inexpensive and unequalled as a skin beautifier. It will not rub off or show like face powder and you will find it excellent for removing that shiny, muddy look from your skin. I find it good for removing and preventing freckles, skin pimples and any unnatural skin roughness.

B. W.: If my eyes continually had that tired, overworked feeling you say yours do, I would lose no time getting a good tonic for them. My eyes are inclined to be weak and I keep them in good condition by using a simple, inexpensive remedy made by dissolving an ounce of crystals in a pint of water. A few drops in each eye occasionally will really relieve inflammation and make one's eyes bright and sparkling. Try this and I am sure you will not need to wear glasses. THE DEMOCRATS

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Congressman James M. Graham of Illinois, and Ollie James of Kentucky, replied last night to the statement issued by the republican members of the Ballinger investigating committee. Graham and James wrote the opinion of the four democratic members which was given out as their report at Minneapolis last week.

The republican members of the committee met Tuesday in Chicago and charged that the democrats played politics.

Congressman Graham says: "To us it appears ten weeks is time enough to study the evidence, and reach a conclusion on it, and their position seems inexplicable unless it be credited to political expediency."

"If Mr. Ballinger is innocent and has been unjustly assailed how utterly cruel and inhuman it is to withhold his vindication."

"The statement issued by Senator Nelson and his colleagues in Chicago yesterday is only positive proof of what he saw demonstrated in Minneapolis, and that is that the republican members of the committee did not desire to make a report on the Ballinger case until after the elections."

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The marriage of Mr. Henry Austin Bixby of Ayer and Miss Harriet May Hall, daughter of the late ex-Postmaster John Suggden Hall took place last evening at the home of the bride in North Chelmsford. Rev. Granville Pierce of Ashby performing the ceremony. The couple were married under an arch of pink roses and hydrangeas in the parlor of the bride's home. As the bride party entered the parlor at 9 o'clock, Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Mr. Edward Everett Adams of Lowell, who has also played at two previous weddings in the Hall family.

Miss Hall was attended by her sister, Mrs. Fred Ware Park, as matron of honor. Miss Dorothy Hall and Miss Charlotte Park, her nieces, were bridesmaids. The Misses Katherine and Margaret Hall, twin nieces, were flower girls and Master Philip Park was ring bearer, carrying the wedding ring upon a silver tray. The best man was Mr. William Hall, brother of the bride. The bride wore white satin trimmed with duchess lace and carried a duchess lace handkerchief, the gift of her sister, Mrs. Park.

During the reception, Fred G. Huss of Boston, catered. Mrs. W. H. Hall and Mrs. Fred Huss served in the dining room, where the table was effectively decked in pink asters and greenery.

The ushers were Mr. Harry L. Parkhurst of Chelmsford, Mr. Arthur Garland of Lowell and Mr. Thurston Bliss of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Bixby received many beautiful and costly gifts, each eloquent of the good wishes of the donor. Upon their return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Bixby will beat home to their friends at their home in Main street, Ayer, after Oct. 15.

DESIGNATES ELECTED

PANAMA, Sept. 15.—Liberal members of the national assembly yesterday elected Pablo Arcelesena, Frederico Boyd and Rodolfo Chirac, as first, second, and third designates, respectively. Arcelesena becomes acting president for the expired term of the late President Obaldin. All three designates are liberals. The conservatives assemblymen were not present at the election.

BATES ARRESTED

CHARGED WITH THREATENING TO SHOOT McMANUS

WORCESTER, Sept. 15.—Edward Bates, aged 41, head of the Bates piano company at 4 Walnut street, was arrested yesterday by Inspector Fred P. Good on a warrant charging him with threatening to shoot James C. McManus, a salesman for a rival piano concern.

McManus swore out the warrant late in the afternoon and it was given to Inspector Good to serve. He went to the Bates store and notified the proprietor he had the warrant for his arrest. Bates ordered the officer from the premises and, according to Good, he began to heap torrents of abuse on his head. The inspector says he cautioned Bates to come along quietly, but that Bates put up a fight. Then the inspector grabbed him by the collar, and Bates reached headquarters all muddled up, and after being booked he was locked in a cell, where he remained until bailed out last night for his appearance in the district court today.

AVIATION MEET

The Flyers Startled the Crowd With Stunts

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Some of the best flying of the aviation meet at Atlantic was that which was seen yesterday afternoon, when Grahame-White was in the air with his monoplane, Glenn H. Curtiss in his fastest biplane, Walter Brookings and Ralph Johnstone in Wright biplanes and Charley Willard in the Curtiss Hudson River flyer.

There were some aerial stunts done at that particular time when these five aviators were flying over the field and the bay and the harbor which equaled, yes, exceeded in many picturesque ways—anything seen at the meet thus far.

It was as if the bird men, like a flock of pigeons, were at play after the contests of the preceding 5 days—as if they were enjoying themselves in a care-free sort of way, darting hither and thither, rising, soaring, circling and at one time it looked very much as if Mr. Johnstone was trying to imitate some of those peculiar tricks which only a tumbler pigeon performs successfully in flight.

It was a splendid exhibition of flying, and the three or four thousand persons who were present enjoyed it hugely. The skill which these professional aviators have attained was well illustrated in the quick turns they made, in the diving and quick rising when only a few feet from the ground; in the gliding without power at times and in the beautiful alighting.

Scared Even Wilbur Wright

Johnstone did some sensational stunts—in fact so sensational that the incertum Wilbur Wright criticized his pupil for attempting them. He has a sort of spiral turn which he makes which creates a curious optical illusion. The machine appears as if it was turning completely over, and when he first did this the spectators fairly gasped. But he always came right side up and waved his hand at the grandstand as he sailed away and soared aloft over Dorchester bay, only to come back and send a new thrill down everybody's spine by some wholly unexpected performance.

Walter Brookings was not one who followed his partner in these dare-devil stunts in a Wright biplane, from which floated the little American and the little Irish flag. He did some cork-feet or more that were really thrilling and he flew the whole length of the course only a few feet from the ground, looking like a great wild duck flying low over a marsh. The two whirling propellers of these Wright machines add very much to the suggestion of the wild duck in flight.

Grahame-White also proved that he was not a whit behind the Wright flyers in doing stunts in his Farman biplane. He can turn as sharp an angle as any of them, can swoop toward the ground in a hair-raising fashion and suddenly soar aloft again at the moment when it seems as if he would be dashed to pieces.

Grahame-White's Motor Troubles

The motor on this biplane bothered him considerably yesterday and at one time, after he had taken a woman passenger around the course, he was forced to alight—or at least he thought it best to alight under the circumstances and take no chances over the water with his passenger.

He landed in the getaway and probably nobody on the field—except the experts, whose ears are trained to the motor sound—knew that anything was the matter. He did intend to take his passenger around the course twice, however. The passenger was Miss Catherine Reed, a high school teacher from Washington, D. C.

The English aviator, a little later, took his biplane into the air again and circled the field a number of times, but the action of the motor did not wholly please him and he had the machine taken back to the hangar to have the motor overhauled by the mechanics.

Then he went up in his Blériot monoplane and gave a very beautiful exhibition of flying while four other machines were in the air. At one time it looked very much like a race between himself and Glenn H. Curtiss, who was flying in his racer with the new eight-cylinder motor.

In this machine Curtiss seemed to overhaul the biplane on the long sides of the course and on the curves those who believed that this racer on beat Grahame-White's monoplane, in which he won the Globe $10,000 prize.

The qualities of these two men and their machines will be tried out today in a contest which has been decided upon for a $3000 cup. It will be a speed contest over three laps of the course covering a distance of 5 1/2 miles. It will be one in which the speed merits of Grahame-White's monoplane and the Curtiss biplane will be severely tested.

Curtiss Due to Show Speed

Glenn H. Curtiss is not satisfied with the work he has done or the showing he has made during the meet so far, and he hopes to vindicate himself today in this contest. Even Wilbur Wright believes that the Curtiss machine is the fastest flyer on the course. Curtiss and Willard made several circuits of the course in a speed race, and Curtiss covered 5 1/2 miles in the best time he has yet made on the field—6m. 19 3/5. This is not nearly as good as the record made by Grahame-White's speed record in the monoplane a few days ago, when he covered the same distance in 5m. 1 3/5.

Bombdropping Today

There will be also some interesting bomb-dropping contests today for the City of Boston cup; the John Hays Hammond cup and the John Hays Ryan cup. In fact this last day of the meet should be one of the very best from a spectacular point of view, as the various flyers will also give exhibition flights in which the stunts of today will be duplicated and may be exceeded—weather permitting.

The weather yesterday was so threatening that the crowd was not nearly as large as on previous days, but the conditions for flying were unusually good—in fact much better than on the preceding day.

Management Satisfied

The rumors that the management of the meet have been dissatisfied with the showing of the American aviators are wholly groundless. The management are not only pleased with the work of the American aviators but feel indebted to them for their courtesy and their efforts and especially for the generous manner in which they consented to fly two more days than were originally scheduled or contracted for.

The management fully realizes that this meet has been in many essential respects the best meet ever held in the world and this result was only attained by the splendid flying of all the professional aviators who entered the meet. The Americans were a little unfortunate during the first few days, but they more than made up for this along toward the end of the contests. And there is not, nor has there been at any time, the slightest friction between the management and the aviators.

That part of the work has been conducted by James V. Martin in a manner wholly satisfactory to the management and the aviators. The critics should bear in mind that the contests of this meet were run off without a single serious accident. No aviators were urged to appear at any time unless their machines were in perfect condition.

100 WENT ON STRIKE

Workers on Cement Storehouse Quit, but Soon Went Back

Some 100 men employed on the top floor of the concrete warehouse being constructed for the Massachusetts mills on Bridge street went out on strike this morning. Most of the strikers are foreigners and a majority of them returned to work after they had been out for an hour or two.

The warehouse is being built by the Abertshaw Construction Co. of Boston, and from one source it was stated that the strike was due to the company's refusal to pay the men 25 instead of 20 cents an hour. In another quarter it was stated that the men struck because the boss was ugly and overbearing.

The company did not have any statement to make; at least none was obtainable as there is no admittance to the premises. The company also excludes labor leaders from its premises.

Patrolman Peter McMahon was called to the building when the strike started and the officer was asked to arrest the strikers for larceny, it being stated that the strikers were wearing rubber boots belonging to the company. The officer did not see his way clear to making arrests unless warrants were produced. At 10 o'clock it was stated that everything was running smoothly again.

FUNERALS

HANNA—The funeral services of the late Alexander E. Hanna were held yesterday afternoon from his home, 4 Wellington square, and were largely attended by his relatives and his many friends. Rev. John P. West, pastor of the Highland Methodist church, conducted the services. Appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. Charles S. Young, including "Something Well Understood," "When the Mists Have Rolled Away," and "Christian's Good Night." The floral offerings were profuse, including a large pillow inscribed "Father and Husband," from the family; bank inscribed "Son and Brother," from family; wreath inscribed "Brother," from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watt and Mrs. Wilhelmina Shackleton; spray of chrysanthemums from Miss Effie Morrison; spray of white plinks from brothers and sisters; bouquet of pink asters, from Mr. Charles Howell; spray of pink asters, from Mr. G. W. Bentley; bouquet of mixed flowers from Miss Blanche Piper; double spray of white and pink asters, from Mr. Fred C. King; spray of white asters, from Mrs. Forsythe; double spray of asters from Ladies' Aid society, Highland M. E.

ROBINSON—The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Robinson took place Wednesday afternoon from her residence, 80 Lawrence street, and was largely attended. There were many beautiful floral offerings. The services were conducted by Rev. Joseph L. Seward of Keene, N. H., formerly pastor of the Unitarian church of this city, and the Temple quartet sang "Lead, Kindly Light," "Christian's Good Night," and "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The bearers were Ralph Brazer, Dr. Leonard Huntress, Gardner Wells, Henry Fay and Mr. Cahill. Edward F. Spalding had charge of the arrangements and the burial was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery, under the direction of Undertaker J. B. Currier Co.

MCCARTHY—The funeral of Alice McCarthy took place Wednesday afternoon at 3.30 from the home of her parents, Charles and Mary McCarthy, 29 Frye street. Burial took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, in charge of Funeral Director John F. Rogers. Among the floral tributes were the following: spray of asters tied with pink ribbon, from Michael Donoghue and family; spray of asters tied with pink ribbon, from Mrs. Howard and Curden; large basket of asters and ferns from Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Coughlin and Miss M. McCarthy; spray of asters, Mrs. and Mrs. Doyle; spray inscribed "At Rest," from J. H. Allen; bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. Belson; bouquet, Miss Hough; bouquet, Mrs. Webster, and bouquet, Mrs. Wilson.

DUFFY—The funeral of James H. Duffy took place this morning at 8 o'clock from his late home, 5 Fulton street, and proceeded to St. Michael's church, where at 9 o'clock a funeral high mass was sung, Rev. Fr. Shaw officiating. The choir under the direction of Thomas Boulger sang the Gregorian mass. Miss Carolyn White presided at the organ. The bearers were William Burns, John Maher, James J. McCauley, Edward Moore, Michael Cushman and Emilio Lavender. Interment was in St. Patrick's cemetery, Rev. Fr. Murphy reading the committal prayers. The funeral was under the direction of Undertaker Peter H. Savage. Among the many beautiful floral tributes were the following: Large pillow inscribed "Husband," from wife of deceased; pillow inscribed "Brother," from family; cross on base, inscribed "At Rest," Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Duffy; cross on base with inscription "At Rest," Mr. and Mrs. Martin Duffy; cross inscribed "Rest," Mr. Wilson and family; large cross with "Farewell," inscribed on base, P. Murphy and family; large wreath on base, inscribed "Farewell," Princeton club; wreath, Ed. Morris; pillow inscribed "Friend," Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McCauley; cross on base from friends; wreath, Cushman family; wreath, Sullivan family; wreath, Barker and Monahan; bouquet of cut flowers, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelley; sprays, Mrs. J. Moore, Mrs. J. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. M. Murphy, Mrs. Quinn and daughter, Miss Nellie Sullivan, Misses Sarah and Charlotte McCauley, Frank and William Morrissey, Mr. and Mrs. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Michael O'Brien, Miss E. McNally, William J. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Riley, Misses Sarah and Jessie Moore, Miss May Green, Queen Mary and Edward and Margaret Callahan.

STOCK MARKET

SAG IN PRICES AT THE CLOSE

Today

The Market Closed Weak—Various

Stocks Declined One or Two Points

Features of Today's Trading

New York, Sept. 15.—Movements in the opening prices of stocks were slightly mixed, but the downward course of the leading active issues gave the dominant tone to the market. Canadian Pacific fell 3/4, Am. Can. 1/2, and Reading, Minneapolis, St. Paul and

Sault Ste. Marie, Toledo and Northwestern pfd and U. S. Steel substantial fractions. Western Union rose 1/2.

Some of the leading stocks receded a fraction from the opening figures at which level support began to appear and there was a general rally.

The market was unable to absorb the small offerings and prices were lower. The railroad stocks were the weakest at the moment.

The market showed signs of selling to realize as opportunity afforded. A rally in Interborough-Met. of 1 and in the preferred of U. S. Steel was taken advantage of to sell the list. Reports of reducing rates in the United States

Steel subsidiary made a weakening factor. Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Reading, Norfolk & Western,

Western Maryland, U. S. Steel, Am-

Smelting and Virginia Carolina chemical declined 1 and Amal. and Am-

Ice 1. Del. & Hud. advanced 1. Bonds were regular.

An interval of steadiness was followed by renewed selling in which earlier losses were extended. Reading broke 1/2. Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting 1/4. Missouri Pacific

1 1/4 and Westinghouse Electric 1.

American Lined pfd moved up 2, and United Dry Goods 3 points.

The market closed weak. There was a further sag in prices. The decline in Missouri Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting reached 2 1/4.

Losses Sheffield Steel and Reading 2 and various other stocks declined one or more.

Spot Cotton

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Cotton spot closed quiet, 5 points higher. Middling

Uplands 13.80; Middling Gulf 14.05.

SAVINGS BANK EXAMINATION

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Bank Commissioner Arthur B. Chapin has prepared a new set of regulations governing the examination of savings banks in this state by employees of his department. Hereafter no officer or employee of a bank is to be permitted to assist the examiner in any way except upon his formal request and such a request cannot be made without the approval of the bank commissioner. In his report to the commissioner in such a case the examiner must state what officer of the bank assisted him and to what extent. The new rules provide for a more rigid inspection of the books of every bank.

AUTO POLICE PATROL

Contract Awarded to the Thomas Co. of Buffalo

The E. R. Thomas company of Buffalo, N. Y., has been awarded the contract for the auto police patrol. The award was made today and the machine is to be delivered within 75 days from the date of contract. It will require two or three days to prepare the contract. The cost of the machine will be $5000, but the company states in a note accompanying the specifications that the regular price of the machine is $8750, and that the price is reduced in order to get the Thomas machine introduced here. The Thomas people were the only ones to live up to the rules governing the submission of bids, and, as a matter of fact, their car was the only one to meet the requirements. A full set of drawings and a complete set of specifications accompanied the $500 check of the Thomas company. The call of the purchasing agent was for a machine of

RIKER-JAYNES DRUG STORE

PATENT MEDICINES

You can save time and money by stepping into one of the Riker-Jaynes stores when in need of any of the well-known advertised remedies. It is a well-known fact that we carry the largest assortment of patent medicines of any retail drug house, and many have learned from experience that, if an article cannot be obtained in any of our stores, it is useless to try any other place. You can always be sure of saving money in this department. Our business was started on the principle of small profits and large sales. We have been successful and will, therefore, continue in the future, as we always have in the past, to quote the lowest prices.

In our Early Fall Sale we show to a limited extent only the great variety of goods to be found in our stores and the fact that you can actually save 1-4 to 1-2 of the cost on all regular drug store goods, as well as on the goods in our special departments. We have selected many items which will be of interest to the housekeepers who are returning from their vacations, various toilet accessories and many devices that will give comfort to the invalid. Many of the prices in this advertisement have been marked down extremely low for this sale. These prices will be in effect Friday and Saturday of this week and Monday and Tuesday of next week only.

You would scarcely know from the prices we quote in this department that the cost of rubber is today about three times as much as it was a year or two ago.

PRESCRIPTIONS

There are several mighty good reasons which should appeal to every thinking man and which should make you decide in favor of the Riker-Jaynes Drug stores as the most competent to fill your physician's prescriptions. These are plain arguments which every man or woman should understand and every physician should appreciate.

We fill as many prescriptions in one day as the average drug store does in a year—fresh, active drugs.

Only registered pharmacists of the highest type are permitted to work in our prescription rooms.

The first rule to our prescription clerks is to fill the prescription exactly according to the physician's instructions, or not to fill it at all.

Our drugs and chemicals we buy from the leading manufacturers in the country, and also subject them to a test in our own laboratory.

Physicians can depend on our having in stock the very latest discoveries (both in this country and abroad) in medicines for the treatment of all kinds of disease.

And, as a general rule, we can save you money.

TRUSSES & ELASTIC HOSIERY

The Riker-Jaynes Lowell store is fitted with a special room used only for fitting trusses and elastic hosiery. This assures absolute privacy. The attendants are experienced in this line of work and we guarantee an absolutely perfect fit. Five factories are kept busy supplying our stores in Boston and vicinity. The quality of the goods we guarantee and we can prove to you that we can save you money.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was 16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

EXPLAINING THE MAINE SLUMP.

Many of the republican organs throughout the country blame Roosevelt for the smashing defeat suffered by the republican party in the state of Maine.

The New York Times takes this view and makes a vigorous attack upon Roosevelt, who, it says, "is raging up and down the land with passionate and reckless appeals." The Times speaking of Roosevelt's influence on the republican party says:

"To the amazement of many republicans, but to the evident joy of others, those symbols have now been written and smeared across the republican banner. They see it seized and frantically waved aloft by one man, who is raging up and down the land, filling the air with his passionate and reckless appeals for the acceptance of the new and strange principles, the principles of a faith invented by himself which he describes as the 'new nationalism,' a faith subversive not merely of the older faiths, but of American institutions themselves."

The Times winds up with a strong appeal to democrats to grasp the opportunity, concluding thus:

"Against these agitators, against the dangerous delusions they preach, and against the wave of popular passion they have stirred up until it threatens to overwhelm the country, the democratic party, under leaders of sanity and of wisdom, must arm itself and present a solid front for the defence of all that is most precious in the heritage that has come down to us from the founders of the republic."

That is good advice for democrats. The discomfiture of the republican party makes democratic victory a foregone conclusion if democrats are loyal to their own interests and show reasonably good judgment.

PRESIDENT TUTTLE'S RETIREMENT

The retirement of President Tuttle of the Boston & Maine railroad will be regretted by many business men with whom he has had official relations for many years. He is one of the best railroad men in the country and a citizen who always used his influence in behalf of progress and popular reforms. If the Boston & Maine had not been quite as prosperous as other roads, we do not believe the fault lay with President Tuttle.

President Mellen, who succeeds Mr. Tuttle, promises to improve the service. The progress of the hour demands improvement of course. One of the improvements will probably be the electrification of a great portion of the lines. The Boston & Maine now becomes part and parcel of a great railroad system and hence radical changes and improvements are to be expected.

President Mellen, a native of Lowell, is the guiding spirit of the combined roads and under his control it is expected that the general public will see the advantages of the merger. The Sun has all along favored the merger as a means of making possible improvements in the service that the Boston & Maine alone could never attempt.

THE RULE OF THREE.

The old fashioned "rule of three" is not taught in the elementary schools nowadays. The proper name of that rule is "proportion" and it is based upon the equality of ratios; but for some reason the more recent arithmetics have little or nothing about proportion.

By proportion, simple and compound, nearly all arithmetical problems can be solved. Familiarity with the right use of this rule trains the reasoning power as few other rules can.

In compound proportion there are numerous ratios to be compared with a given ratio in order to complete another ratio and this process of comparison by which a desired result may be obtained is very valuable as a mental trainer.

But the teachers of arithmetic at the present day manage to solve problems in proportion by what is known as the unit rule, which is not as safe, as accurate or as easy. The elimination of the "rule of three" from the school course is responsible for a great part of the failure of our school graduates in civil service and other examinations.

SENATOR LODGE'S VIEW.

Senator Lodge endeavors to attach but slight importance to the sweeping democratic victory in the state of Maine. He says it is due mainly to local conditions. We agree with him in that. It was entirely due to local conditions. The people of the Pine Tree state are suffering from the effects of a bad tariff law. They are suffering from the high cost of living. These are, as Mr. Lodge says, local conditions, but the same conditions prevail in every other part of the country. So that local conditions throughout the country will operate against the republican party in the same way as in the state of Maine. Mr. Lodge will find that local conditions are likely to overthrow the republican majority even in his own stamping ground of Massachusetts.

He has stood firmly by the stand-patners of the republican party, and although he must realize that the ship is sinking, still as a valiant captain he shouts to the middies, "There is no danger." But wait, retribution will come to Lodge as well as the rest of the unscrupulous stand-patners.

THE WRIGHTS WERE BEATEN.

Grahame-White has shown the Wrights how to fly. The Wrights insist on too much for their services and they seek to establish a monopoly of the flying machine business under their patents. In view of these things there were very few to regret that a foreign aviator beat them in some of the most important contests. Grahame-White was willing to enter the contest for the sum of $7,500, but the Wrights demanded $30,000. This with their winnings of $9,250, gave them more than Grahame-White, although he received $32,100 in prizes while the Wrights won but $8,250. Curtiss entered for $10,000 and won $6,500 in prizes. The results show that the Wright Brothers cannot sustain their claims of superiority to all other machines by actual performance.

"Suddenly," she said, "Red Riding Hood heard a loud noise. She turned around, and what do you suppose she saw standing before her?"
"A big, black, hairy monster," cried one of the boys. —Judge.

CLOSE CALCULATION

The business man who stays at home figures right and day.
Gazed at the girls who love to roam
When summer time is gay,
He shouted welcome from afar
And viewed them with delight,
Even though the sun had dared to mar
Complexions once so white.

And then to work again he turned,
The weary hours he spent
Where values of all kinds he learned
To fractions of a cent.
He found when he had figured out
The bills at Billows Beach
That this year's freckles cost about
Two hundred dollars each.
—Washington Evening Star.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

An entire change of bill at the Academy today, including the Harrington sisters, singers and dancers, McCrea & Barrows in feats of marksmanship and Burkhardt, Kelly & Co. in a great comedy sketch "Alaska or Bust." All new pictures. Admission 5 and 10 cents.

THEATRE VOYONS

The twice a week change of bill at the Theatre Voyons is made today and the new program is an exceptionally good one. Not one of the numbers is old and every one is the very best in its class selected after the entire product for the week has been seen and only the most suitable booked. There is no theatre in the state which can excel in quality the Theatre Voyons for every care is taken and much money expended in the effort to present not only the best but the newest and most appropriate pictures. One of the comedies on today's bill, "Good Chum," is a real hit for laughing purposes and will be sure to please. Another subject of the ordinary is "Hunting Panthers in India," a thrilling feature of interest to every sportsman and nature lover, for every stage of the exciting chase and capture of this fierce brute is shown.

TO CURE DANDRUFF

A Very Simple Thing to Do If You Do It Right

Do you know that dandruff can be quickly cured by washing the hair and scalp with Birt's Head Wash? Use it two or three times a week, and very soon your scalp will be clean, smooth and pink, with not a trace of scales or dandruff. Your hair will take on new life, and become soft and glossy. Perhaps you have heretofore tried the plan of frequent washing with common soap, but try again with Birt's Head Wash and see the difference. The reason is that ordinary soaps and shampoos contain an excess of alkali, which hurts the scalp more than it helps it. Birt's Head Wash is made of refined soap, Coccine coconut oil, white of eggs, glycerine and salicylic acid. At drug and department stores. 25c, 50c.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

"The Wolf," the great success of that now famous author, Eugene Walter, will be brought to the Opera House tonight. "The Wolf" is a melodrama of the Canadian Hudson Bay country, in three acts. The first act takes place in front of the home of Andrew MacDonald, a Scotch trader, on the banks of the Wind river; the second act is the interior of the same home, and the third is in the woods at the portage of Little Bear river. The action consumes but a day.

Years before the story of "The Wolf" begins, a half-sister of Jules Beaubien has been betrayed by an American adventurer, and on his death-bed Jules' father tells him to find his step-sister, Annette, and care for her. Jules goes north on the search, but finds that his sister met voluntary death in a storm, after her betrayal. He determines to find the man and avenge his step-sister's wrongs, enlisting with him Baptiste LeGrand, a nomad.

In the first act, William McDonald and his assistant, George Huxley, are found stopping at the MacDonald home, while promoting the construction of a railroad. McDonald has been making love to MacDonald's daughter, Hilma—a child hated by her father because he wished for a son, and because her mother deserted him on account of his abuse. Jules and Baptiste arrive. Jules is Hilma's admirer, but has never spoken his love. To him McDonald boasts that, although he is married, he is going to take Hilma away with him. In his boasting, he admits that it was he who drove Annette to her death in the storm.

In the second act McDonald tricks MacDonald into promising that Hilma shall go with him. When MacDonald tries to kill his daughter for refusing to go with McDonald, Jules interposes. Hilma takes sides with Jules, and Baptiste and Jules have a desperate fight they escape with Hilma.

The last act finds the party in flight, resting at the portage of Little Bear river. Baptiste, Huxley and Hilma embark in a canoe, leaving Jules alone to return to the MacDonald home for the purpose of killing McDonald and avenge Annette. Before Jules can start on his return journey, however, McDonald appears in pursuit. There is a fight which ends in the death of McDonald at the hands of Jules.

"THE CITY."

To the use of drugs, doubtless, may be traced depravity, the utter lack of honor and the tendency to blackmail of George Frederick Hancock, the wonderful character in the play of "The City." Hancock is the illegitimate son of George Rand, Sr., a banker of Middlebury, Vt. Although he is in ignorance of his birth, he realizes that he has some hold upon the financier and he "bleeds" him successfully for years. Hancock is taken into the bank but fails. The drug habit dominates his character.

Finally his demands become so frequent that Rand offers resistance and Hancock threatens his life. The shock brings on a stroke of apoplexy and on his death bed the senior Rand confesses to his son and heir the blot upon the family name.

The Rand family, which is to say, the son, Mrs. Rand and the two daughters, Teresa and Cicely, have long yearned for city life. The death of the father removes the last obstacle. The son inherits the business acumen of the father and after a few years in New York, he has more than doubled the Rand fortune. Hancock, still a victim of morphine, has been installed in the Rand home as secretary.

The son, satisfied with his business success, enters politics. On the eve of his nomination for governor of New York, his political manager asks him if there is anything he is ashamed of. Although aware of his father's wrong-doing, the son declares that he can enter the arena with a clean record and a clear conscience. The campaign manager for his dismissal, whereupon Rand refuses to become so great, however, that Rand discharges him. The fiend replies that he cannot be discharged, which leads to an issue between the two men.

"THE MAN FROM HOME."

Wm. Hodge, the star of the record-breaking play by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson, "The Man From Home," which is to be seen at the Lowell Opera House Thursday evening, is particularly at home in the part of Daniel Voorhees Pike, the Kokomo lawyer, in the play. Some years ago, before Mr. Hodge thought seriously of adopting the stage as a profession, he studied law in Indianapolis, and so brings to his work a peculiar fitness for the portrayal of the part, being not alone familiar with the local atmosphere of the character, but thoroughly familiar with the ways and habits of the legal profession in Indiana.

"THE MERRY WIDOW." Such emphasis has been laid upon the allurements of the famous waltz in "The Merry Widow," upon the transcendent charm of Franz Lehár's melody, and upon the whimsical humor of the operetta's humor that relatively minor consideration has been accorded the work's rare dramatic strength. No light opera within memory is so boundedly supplied with stirring dramatic scenes, tense moments that thrill the spectator. From the moment of Danilo's discovery of the identity of the slumbering Danilo in that artistic episode, gay humor and almost tragic intensity are so adroitly blended that, until Popoff's discomfiture in the final act, the play is a succession of scenes in any audience. Indeed, as was pointed out by one of New York's critics upon the occasion of the American premiere "The Merry Widow" would undoubtedly be a great success even if stripped of its music. Chief among the footlights luxuries and its ever varied stage pictures, Chief among the interpreting company are Gertrude Hutcheson as Sonia and George Damerel as Prince Danilo. The usual big orchestra that has heretofore accompanied this organization will again be featured. The orchestra will be under the direction of Frank Manderville.

GREAT VIOLIN VIRTUOSO Lowell will have the pleasure of hearing one of the world's great violinists at the Lowell Opera House on the evening of Oct. 13. The French MacMillan who stands in the front rank with Ysaye, Kreisler and Hartmann, will come to Lowell after opening his season with the Boston Symphony orchestra on October 14-15. Mr. MacMillan is a thorough artist, and keeps his technique in the most perfect condition. He is given our students and music lovers to hear one, in their own Opera House should meet with hearty support, by all those interested in the art and student growth of the city.

A WOMAN'S ANSWER

Every Day—The Grocers Say.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Everybody loves to see children romping and the real play indulged in by the "Country Kids," at Hathaway's theatre, this week, is one of the treats of the season. Notwithstanding the fact that the musical comedy was given here three seasons ago, hardly anybody would recognize it. For Miss Edwards has written entirely new music for it, and the general idea has also been changed. Billy Foster, a good boy tenor, appears with the kids, and the comedy is well supplied by Gertrude Morgan and Fred C. Hackett.

Edna Luby, a top notch impersonator, will please any audience. Especially good is her impersonation of Nora Bayes, singing "Kelly." She also impersonates Rose Stahl, in a scene from "The Chorus Lady"; Marie Dressler, Vesta Tilley and Anna Held. Other acts on the bill are: Duff & Walsh, dancers; Doyle & Wilson, in a black face sketch; Haswell, Leigh and Griffiths in "The Masqueraders"; Kump family, Jap wonder workers; their songs and monologues. And not the least attractive feature will be the moving pictures and illustrated songs, with a fine soloist, well known in Lowell.

SCENIC THEATRE

One of the best bills seen at a Lowell vaudeville house in some time will be presented to the public when the New Scenic theatre throws open its doors for the first time next Monday afternoon.

The Victoria Hindoo troupe, for instance, will present some novelties in the way of mysterious stunts and doings which are bound to set the audience a-gossiping. Then there is the Scenic Stock company, of George D. Mackey, who has been for summer after summer at the Lyric theatre, and Miss Bessie Overton, of the Adam Gode company fame, in a complete and splendid dramatic sketch, "Ladys and Gentles" will furnish plenty of fun with their songs and monologues. And not the least attractive feature will be the moving pictures and illustrated songs, with a fine soloist, well known in Lowell.

The theatre itself is the prettiest in Lowell, and the most comfortable. Yet the admission is but 10 cents, with a few reserved seats at 25 cents, on sale continually one week in advance. Continuous performance from 1 p. m. until 10.30 p. m. daily.

DR. COOK'S BACKER MAN FOUND DEAD FRANK KELLOGG

Gone to Search for Explorer's North Pole Records

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 15.—The Danish government steamer Hays Uge arrived here today with the news that John R. Bradley, the Swedish backer of Dr. Frederick A. Cook's North polar expedition, was on his way to Etah to secure the much-talked-of records and instruments which Cook has said that he left at that Eskimo settlement on the northwest coast of Greenland. The captain of the steamer, thinks that Cook is with Bradley, but gives no particular reason for this belief.

The Hays Uge, which is the vessel on which the explorer traveled to civilization after his exploit in the Arctic a year ago, fell in with a yacht at Godhavn, a Danish settlement on the south coast of Disco Island, Greenland, and in the course of exchanges between the masters learned that Bradley was aboard the other craft.

The polar hunt promoter admitted his identity and explained that he was bound for Etah to recover whatever had been left there by Dr. Cook. He refused, however, to either deny or confirm the report that he was accompanied by the explorer. The ship brings the information that two missionaries who are working among the Eskimos and who accompanied Cook on his expedition say that the Makimos insist that the doctor reached the pole, as he claims, prior to its discovery by Commander Peary.

COSMOS SOCIAL CLUB

There was a large attendance of members at the regular meeting of the Cosmos Social and Athletic club held last night at the camp at Long Pond. At the conclusion of the business meeting a social smoker was held.

Miss Emily and Delmore entertained with songs, Joseph McGarry and Joseph Lanthier spoke on the labor question, and Peter Noonan and William Christy gave readings and songs. Messrs. Usher and Cummings also entertained with buck and wing dancing.

EVANGELICAL ASSOCIATION

In the first Evangelical church rooms in the Ruel building there was held, yesterday afternoon and evening, the quarterly conference of the women's auxiliaries of the Evangelical association of New England.

The president, Mrs. M. L. Stevens of Cambridge, presided. There was a service of prayer and praise, followed by the usual reports of officers and delegates. The churches represented were those of Somerville, Everett, Stoneham, East Boston, New Bedford and Lowell.

CHELMSFORD

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Central Congregational church of Chelmsford held its semi-annual business meeting in the church vestry Tuesday evening. All officers were re-elected with the exception of the vice-president, Mrs. E. T. Adams being chosen to take the place of E. Roy Kittredge, who is out of town. It was voted to abolish the junior department of the society. The executive committee will provide speakers for the Sunday evening meetings for the next six months. About $75 has been taken in during the past half year and the expenses for this period amounted to about $70. There is now in the treasury about $30. After the business meeting refreshments were served under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Ashworth.

On Top of a Freight Car May be Appointed Solicitor General

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 15.—On the arrival of the Portland freight, in charge of Conductor True, from Boston, on the Portland division, of the B. & M. R. R., shortly after 10, last night, a trainman found the body of a man lying on the top of a box car. Two companions who were stealing a ride with him said that his name was Robert McArthur, and that his home was 11A Irwin street, Malden, Mass. After giving this information to the trainmen the two men fled on the approach of Police Officer Philbrook. It is thought by railroad men that he was struck by the overhead bridge at the Plains. The unfortunate man was about 25 years old and had the appearance of a sailor, having India ink marks on his right hand.

THE MERRIMACK Clothing Co. ACROSS FROM CITY HALL

BEVERLY, Sept. 15.—The sudden death last week of Solicitor General Lloyd W. Bowers has made an important vacancy for President Taft to fill. Several names have been presented to the president for his consideration.

Among the most prominently mentioned is Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul. Mr. Kellogg was employed as special attorney in the prosecution of the Standard Oil cases and it is understood is thoroughly familiar with the work of the solicitor general's office.

President Taft's policy regarding rivers and harbors will be outlined on Tuesday in the only speech he will make during his trip to Ohio. The president will deliver this speech at the opening of a dam which has been constructed near Cincinnati in connection with a project for improving the Ohio river.

The president's callers yesterday included Senator Foster of Louisiana, who came to present the claims of New Orleans to the Panama exposition of 1915; Hon. H. McKim of the lands of Victoria, Australia, who is investigating irrigation and reclamation work in the United States; Piles, Thirkield of Howard university, Washington; Dr. Knox of the American association for the prevention of infant mortality; and G. T. Searle of Boston.

Mr. Searle discussed various phases of the commerce court and tariff board and offered a few suggestions regarding the operations of these bodies.

HEAVY DUTIES

WERE PAID BY WIFE OF CONGRESSMAN FASSETT

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Mrs. J. Sloat Fassett, wife of the New York congressman and politician, who arrived from Europe on the White Star liner Zealand last night, brought $2000 worth of Paris gowns of the latest model and several trunks filled with other costly merchandise. In all, Mrs. Fassett's declaration for $3300 worth of dutiable goods, and Uncle Sam collected from the congressman about $2000 in customs dues. It is the largest single amount to be paid at this port in months.

The Fassett party consisted of Mrs. Fassett and her son and daughter, who have been spending several months in San Sebastian, Spain. Congressman Fassett went down to quarantine on the boarding revenue cutter Wilmington and greeted his family in the lower harbor. When a reporter asked him what he thought of the Maine election he replied:

"Young man, I'll talk about anything else on earth but that."

One of the most valuable dogs ever brought to America, worth thousands of dollars, it is said, attracted much admiration among the Zealand's saloon passengers. It is Michaelmas, the highest bred hunting dog in all England and was brought over by Fr. Michaelmas, a priest of the St. Vincent's church, Newton Lower Falls. The latter told a reporter he was a present from his uncle and that the animal had cleaned up about all the prizes in England.

Mr. Denis O'Callaghan of South Boston was welcomed at the dock by several members of the United Irish league and other well known Catholics. He has been in Ireland for six weeks, with Dr. P. J. Timmins, and on his return declared Ireland was more prosperous than for many years and that home rule is close at hand.

THE ANNIVERSARY

OF THE DEATHS OF MCKINLEY AND COLLINS

Yesterday, Sept. 14, marked the anniversary of the death of two distinguished men, President William McKinley and Mayor Patrick A. Collins, of Boston.

On Sept. 14, 1901, at the home of John G. Milburn, Buffalo, N. Y., President McKinley succumbed to the wounds inflicted by the assassin, Leon Czolgosz. With Mr. Milburn, president of the Buffalo exposition, the president attended the fair on Sept. 6, where he held a big reception at the Temple of music. One young man, medium sized and smooth shaven, with his right hand swathed in a handkerchief, approached, and the president, his face lit with a smile, extended his hand. As he did so two revolver shots rang out sharply.

The president was seen to stagger. Then he sank back, half fainting, into the arms of Secretary George B. Corley. The assassin was immediately seized by his hands. The president was tenderly carried to the home of Mr. Milburn. On the 13th he gradually grew weaker and weaker, and at 2:15 o'clock the next morning he expired.

The assassin was quickly brought to trial and in less than two months' time had paid the full penalty of the law at Auburn, N. Y., for his crime.

Just four years later Boston received a shock by news from Hot Springs, Va., to the effect that Mayor Patrick A. Collins had passed away in that city. The mayor had left this year instead of his annual vacation a few days after his arrival there he was seized with an attack of acute gastritis. The attack gradually became more violent and at 10:45 o'clock on the morning of the 14th he passed away suddenly.

The funeral a few days later was one of the most impressive ever held at the cathedral of the Holy Cross.

HELEN TAFT

WILL NOT RETURN TO BRYN MAWR

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—Announcement was made yesterday at Bryn Mawr that Miss Helen Taft, daughter of President Taft, will not return to the college this year. Instead it is stated that she will stay home and assist her mother in the many social duties devolving upon her as the first lady of the land.

Miss Taft's return to Bryn Mawr had not been expected by her close friends, but it was not known definitely that she had decided to discontinue her college course until the announcement just made.

Friends of Miss Taft say that her own inclinations were to continue her studies and that she had expressed eagerness to return this year and complete her term.

MARY MANNERING

SUDDENLY STRICKEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Miss Mary Manning, the actress, is said to be seriously ill at Roosevelt hospital, in this city, to which place she was removed after a rehearsal earlier in the week. Her illness is attributed to appendicitis, for which an operation was performed immediately after her admittance to the institution. Miss Manning was preparing to play the leading role in "A Man's World," with the Shuberts managing the production. Miss Manning, who is the divorced wife of James K. Hackett, the actor, has held a conspicuous place on the stage for several years. She was born in London April 28, 1876, and made her debut in "Hercules and Leander." She appeared in Shakespearean roles in the British provinces when she was eight.

In 1895 she appeared in "The Courtship of Leonie" at the Lyceum theatre in this city. She and Hackett were married in May, 1907, but the marriage was kept secret until the following January. She separated from Hackett three years ago and brought suit for divorce.

OLD SWEETHEARTS

WERE MARRIED IN NEW YORK YESTERDAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—There was a wedding yesterday in St. Monica's church, Jamaica, L. I., which marked an odd romance. The principals became engaged years ago. Then they drifted apart through misunderstanding following alleged interception of letters by a relative of the young woman. Meantime each had married. Death left one a widow, the other a widower.

In this ceremony yesterday the bride was Mrs. Mamie Bennett and the bridegroom Harry S. O'Neill. O'Neill is a veterinary surgeon and special agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Brady. Mr. O'Neill said that eighteen years ago he and his bride were engaged to be married. She was then Mamie Abrams, and according to Mr. O'Neill, one of her relatives, who did not approve of the engagement, intercepted their letters and caused an estrangement, so that the engagement was broken off.

O'Neill was graduated from St. Francis Xavier's college, in Manhattan, and then studied to become a veterinary surgeon. He said that he went Miss Abrams an invitation to attend the graduation exercises when he received his diploma, but that this also was intercepted and she never got it.

In 1900 O'Neill married Miss Genevieve Maher, of Brooklyn, who died eighteen months ago, leaving a girl of nine years and a boy of five years.

Miss Abrams in 1894 became the wife of Harry Bennett, who died in 1904, leaving her with a son of fourteen years and a daughter of eight years. Since the death of the first Mrs. O'Neill the widow and widower frequently met and the old love soon revived.

THE TREATY OBLIGATIONS.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 15.—Declaring that to certify the Panama canal would constitute an act of war, General J. Warren Keifer, representative from the Seventh Ohio district, in a lengthy statement issued here last night, reviews the treaty obligations of the United States with reference to the canal. His statement takes its text from suggestions made by William Randolph Hearst in a statement issued Sunday.

POLICE ON DUTY

At Nashua Factory Where Strike is in Progress

NASHUA, N. H., Sept. 15.—Six arrests and six hours of police court sessions were occasioned by the strike at the Estabrook-Anderson shoe factory yesterday.

In anticipation of further trouble the police department put on duty yesterday morning a detail of 18 policemen, and these handled the crowds effectively. The outbreaks and the encounters between the police and the strikers and their sympathizers were mild and were quickly disposed of.

Yesterday's arrests were the following: Cosmos Coffolos charged with assault and interfering with Walter Codis, Thomas Pelky, obstructing the sidewalk, Jacob Oulrick, obstructing the sidewalk, Jacob Ahronian, T. Apostolis, interfering with Barney Se-ther, the leader of the strike-breakers. Coffolos was fined $8 and costs for the assault and held in $500 bonds for superior court on the other complaint. Pelky and Oulrick were fined $5 and costs each. The complaint against Ahronian was dismissed and that against Apostolis was not pressed. Attorney I. C. Eaton appeared in each case except that of Pelky, where Fred J. Gaffney was the counsel. Each case where fine was imposed was appealed.

Policemen Are Sued

In the cases brought forward was one against N. John for interfering with Barney Seither. This was dismissed. Jim Follas, arrested Tuesday night for obstructing the sidewalk, was fined $6 and costs and an appeal was taken. His brother, Stergios Follas, charged with attempting to rescue Jim from the policeman, was held in $200 bonds for the superior court. Costas Saravani was arrested yesterday afternoon on an old complaint alleging assault on Paul Stillman last Saturday. His case will be heard today.

One of the most interesting cases heard yesterday was that of George Parseus, charged with obstructing the sidewalk. He was arrested Tuesday night by Patrolman James Wain and Hector Gaudette. He was also charged with using annoying language to the officers, and was fined $3 and costs on each, from which Atty. Eaton appealed.

As counsel for Parseus, Atty. Eaton has brought action against the two policemen, charging them with assault on Parseus and fixing the damage at $500. Police Commissioner Frank H. Wingate gave bonds for Patrolman Wain and Special Officer George Gaudette for Gaudette. Parseus alleged that he was pulled off a doorstep while explaining to the policeman, and that one kicked him and the other punched him so that he required the services of a physician. In Parseus' case Mr. Eaton alleged that the complaints were drawn under the wrong ordinance owing to the recent revision, but the court overruled this.

Tuesday night a large amount of money was subscribed for the support and assistance of the strikers. It is claimed that $3000 is in the hands of the treasurer, T. Apostolis, who is president of the organization, and who was one of the men arrested yesterday, telegraphed A. Benachi, the Greek consul at Boston, Tuesday night to come here and assist the strikers.

Yesterday George Theoharis, secretary of the Boston consulate, came here. He listened to the proceedings in court yesterday afternoon, and while the Greeks claimed that they were not receiving justice at the hands of the police, he stated after the session that he believed the strikers were receiving their just dues in return for their acts. Last night he drew the strikers and their sympathizers and informed them that if they wished to strike that was a privilege they had, but that they

JAIL SENTENCE OWNER RESCUEDAlso $100 Fine for Illegal Keeping

Judge Raymond, presiding at the criminal session of the superior court in East Cambridge, ordered Philip Couture to pay a fine of $100 and serve a sentence of three months in jail for illegally keeping liquor.

Couture was found guilty in the local police court and ordered to pay a fine of $100 and serve a three months' sentence, but appealed.

SHAFROTH WON FRUIT STEAMERHe Was Nominated for Governor

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 15.—As a result of the narrow margin by which John P. Shafroth was renominated for governor over Dr. B. L. Jefferson by the democratic state convention last night, the vote being 564 to 537, it was expected that there would be some trading between the Shafroth and Jefferson factions today on the nominations still pending.

Pledges of radical legislation contained in the state platform of 1908, for the redemption of which the legislature was summoned to sit in extra session by Governor Shafroth last month and the greater part of which the legislature is still considering, are reaffirmed in the platform to be voted on by the convention today.

U. S. Senator Simon Guggenheim is denounced.

The Payne-Aldrich tariff law is denounced as a revision upward in the interest of the trusts in violation of the oft-repeated promises of the republican presidential candidate and a prompt and thorough revision of the tariff as demanded by the last democratic national convention is urged.

A law abolishing the smelter trust and regulating smelting charges is demanded in the interest of both mine operators and miners.

ADOLPH ROTHBARTHALLEGED SWINDLER IS BROKEN
IN SPIRIT

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Broken in spirit, Adolph Rothbarth, representative in America of the hop-dealing firm of Rothbarth & Co., who confessed to swindling the banks out of nearly $150,000, sent down word from his cell in the Tombs prison today that he "didn't want a lawyer" and that the sooner his trial was over the quicker he could pay the penalty.

Racing Dory Destroyed
by Fire

NEWBURYPORT, Sept. 15.—Catching fire from a defective spark plug in the gasoline engine, the racing power boat Redskin, said to be the fastest racing dory in New England, was destroyed today. Her owner, F. C. Beal of Haverhill, was in the boat and was rescued from the burning craft by a party of men in a dory nearby. Mr. Beal places his loss at $2000.

Thought to Have Been Wrecked

VINEYARD HAVEN, Sept. 15.—Visions of a wreck of a fruit steamer were seen here today when the British schooner Crescent put in and reported that while off Cape Ann yesterday she sailed through thousands of bunches of bananas but could sight no wreckage. An investigation followed immediately, which dispelled all fear that a fruiter had gone to the bottom of the ocean for it was learned that a cargo of fruit consigned to a Boston fruit concern had been thrown overboard because it was over-ripe.

APPRAISAL OF PROPERTY

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 15.—W. J. Hobbs, fourth vice-president of the Boston & Maine railroad, filed with the state board of equalization today an appraisal of the road's rolling stock, and equipment of the Boston & Maine railroad and its leased and operated lines in New Hampshire. The appraisal is made by George M. Thompson of Wakefield, Mass., civil engineer and shows that, according to his figures, the aggregate amount of the actual value of the roads, rolling stock and equipment of the Boston & Maine properties and those of all its leased and main lines in the state of New Hampshire, first day of April last, was $38,014,497.87, representing 1,027.35 miles of road.

The valuation as figured by the board of equalization is about $13,000,000 less than the gross valuation as established last year and approximately less by $8,000,000 than the valuation which they fixed for the purpose of taxation, the total being 74 per cent. of the true valuation.

Mr. Hobbs also submitted to the board today an affidavit of Morton Bradley of Arlington, Mass., expert accountant, containing a great mass of figures stated by him to show that the average rate at which taxable property of all kinds throughout the state is valued for purposes of taxation is 40.08 per cent. of its market value.

CAR LINE IMPROVEMENTS NEAR TOWER'S CORNER

In the above picture is shown the single track on Gorham street for outward cars only. All the inward cars from Gorham and Appleton streets will pass through New Appleton street to Central street on their way to Merrimack square. The change from double to single track on that section of Gorham street will relieve the congestion in front of the post office. The line through New Appleton street will be opened to traffic as soon as the street department shall have completed the smooth paving. The connections with the Lawrence street line are now being used by cars running in that direction.

VOTE IS A TIENo Choice in One Maine
District

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 15.—The last town was heard from today on the gubernatorial vote in Monday's election. It was Woodville, a small town in Penobscot county which has neither telephone nor telegraph service. Woodville did not follow the lead of the most of the other cities, towns and plantations by turning over to the usually minority party, but recorded 15 votes for Governor Fernald and nine for Col. Plaisted. This increased Col. Plaisted's total vote to 78,801, Governor Fernald's to 64,687 and Plaisted's plurality to 9,114, according to the returns of The Associated Press revised by reports from town clerks from all except 161 places. The tie in the Ellsworth election for representative to the legislature is being watched with interest. The returns as canvassed by the city council gave John A. Peters, republican, and Howard Jordan, democrat, 445 each and J. A. Peters one. The question will be submitted to the governor and council. Should they decide the vote for J. A. Peters as counting for John A. Peters the democrats will doubtless ask for a recount. In this event two other ballots which were counted for Mr. Peters will be used to open a new question which the courts will probably have to decide. These two ballots were slips of paper used as stickers on which Mr. Peters' name was stamped with a rubber stamp in red ink. These ballots may be thrown out as hearing identifying marks. It was understood today on good authority that should a tie be declared and a new election ordered, Mr. Peters would withdraw from the contest in favor of his opponent, Mr. Peters had been a candidate for the speakership before the democratic landslide in Hancock county.

WILSON IN LEADFor the Nomination for Governor

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 15.—Woodruff Wilson, president of Princeton university, appears to be in the lead for the democratic nomination for governor. Col. George Harvey, who has been active for Mr. Wilson, and James Smith, Jr., former United States senator and leader of the North Jersey democracy, are working hard for the success of the distinguished educator and they maintain that he will be nominated on the first ballot. Friends of Frank S. Katzenbach, former mayor of Trenton, and the party candidate for governor three years ago, insist that Katzenbach will be the choice of the convention. The convention meets in the Trenton opera house at noon today. J. R. Hardin of Essex county was agreed upon as temporary chairman. One of the big fights in the convention was expected to be over the adoption of a set of rules in permit Hudson county to follow its usual practice of voting its delegation solidly. Mayor Witten of Jersey City has about 85 of the 235 Hudson delegates and his supporters will not submit to a unit rule. The rules as prepared by direction of State Chairman Nugent permit the carrying out of the unit rule in Hudson county.

ASIATIC CHOLERA

DANZIG, Prussia, Sept. 15.—A bacteriological examination in three fatal cases has established that death in each instance was due to Asiatic cholera. Fifteen new suspected cases of cholera here were placed under observation today.

FUNERALS

TWOFEY—The funeral of Francis Twohey, beloved son of Hugh J. and Mary (Cushing) Twohey, was held this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the home of his parents, 49 Livingston street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. Laid upon the grave were the following floral offerings: mammoth pillow with ribbon inscribed "Baby Francis," from Brother Hugh; large spray of pinks from Mrs. Twohey; spray of asters, Mr. Michael Cushing; spray of carnations, Mr. John Cushing; basket of assorted flowers, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Murphy; spray of white asters with ribbon inscribed "Cousin" from Mulvey children; basket of roses and asters, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Murphy. The funeral cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's cemetery where the burial took place in the family lot. Undertaker John A. Finnegan in charge.

HELD IN $50,000

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—George W. Fitzgerald, arrested yesterday, charged with the theft of $173,000 from the sub-treasury three years ago, was admitted to bail in $50,000 today. He protests his innocence.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

WALTHAM, Sept. 15.—Charged with manslaughter, William Norton, gate-man at a local crossing of the Boston & Maine railroad, was held in $2000 bail in the district court today for a hearing Sept. 22. It is charged that Norton failed to lower the gates in time to prevent Louis Liberman from driving his wagon across the track yesterday, resulting in the wagon being hit by a train and Liberman killed.

LORIMER MAY WIN

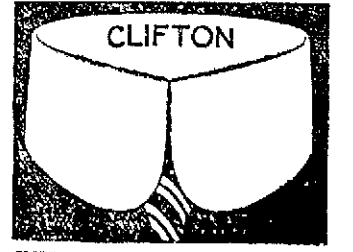

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 15.—Outside of Cook county interest in today's primaries was chiefly in the state legislature nominations. Echoes of the election of United States Senator William Lorimer were heard in practically every district.

KENTUCKY PRIMARIES

LONDON, Ky., Sept. 15.—The eleventh congressional district of Kentucky is excited today over the republican primaries in which D. C. Edwards, incumbent, and Caleb Powers, former secretary of state, are opposing candidates for congress. Powers' eight years' imprisonment, "martyrdom," because of his alleged connection with the Goebel assassination, has been used in appealing for votes.

SYSTEM TIED UP

VIENNA, Sept. 15.—A campaign of passive resistance, the Austrian equivalent to a strike, went into effect on the Southern railroad system at midnight last night in consequence of a wage dispute. The men followed implicitly the exact letter of the rules and regulations of the lines with the result that the system was almost tied up today.

DEALERS OBJECT

To Proposed New Demurrage Rules

The Lowell board of trade will oppose the proposed new demurrage rules recently adopted by the railroads of New England which will reduce the hours allowed local concerns of cities and towns to empty the contents of the freight cars from 96 to 48 hours under the usual penalty of so much per car per day. Secretary Murphy of the board and some of the representatives of the local firms whose business requires the use of the cars have decided to unite in their efforts in an endeavor to remedy this new rule, to some extent at least. If the new rules go into effect a number of local concerns will be paying demurrage bills.

The board of trade has voted to affiliate itself with the Association of Commercial Organizations of the United States. This association is composed of representatives of boards of trade from all of the principal cities of the east, and its officers are principally from the New York Merchants' association, the Boston chamber of commerce, Philadelphia Manufacturers' association and the New Orleans board of trade. The association proposed to go before the interstate commerce commission with a petition relative to alleged excessive charges of the express companies and the lax methods of these companies in dealing with money orders.

SUSPECTS HELD

In Connection With the Stowaway Cases

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Two men were detained as suspects by the police today for the alleged attempt to stow away twenty Italians on board the White Star Canopic which sailed yesterday for Italian ports. Their names were withheld until a definite charge could be laid against them. One of the alleged stowaways claimed that he identified the men under arrest as involved in the smuggling of the Italians on board the vessel. This stowaway told the police that the 20 Italians gave $22 apiece to one of the men last Tuesday night and that the other man accompanied them to the Charlestown bridge later that night whence, he alleged, that two members of the Canopic's crew smuggled them aboard the liner from small boats.

THE MAURETANIA

Is Trying for a New Record

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Driven at top speed, the ocean grayhound Mauretania is nearing port today in an effort to hang up a new transatlantic record for the short course. The giant Cunarder holds the record of 4 days, 10 hours and 51 minutes from Daunt's Rock to Ambrose channel lightship, just outside New York harbor. To equal her old record the Cunarder must reach the lightship at 3.59 o'clock this afternoon.

VESSEL GROUND

VINEYARD HAVEN, Sept. 15.—With both pumps working to keep the vessel from sinking the three-masted schooner Fannie and Fay, bound from Port Johnson for Stonington, Me., made this port today and was grounded in the harbor. While trying to weather Cape Cod during a strong northeast wind yesterday the craft sprang a leak off Nauset and it was decided to put back to this port. The leak will be repaired here and the vessel will proceed to her destination.

TO SPEND $13,000,000

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—"The government of Uruguay proposed to spend under a recently enacted law more than thirteen millions in improvements and extensions of the port works in the harbor of Montevideo. Consul Godding of Montevideo is optimistic over the chance of an American firm obtaining the contract.

HERE, MADAM!
LESSON No. 1

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY of Providence, R. I., has arranged with Madelain Moss, a graduate of Teachers College, Columbia University, and for many years a practical teacher in New York, for a series of lessons on Domestic Science and Household Economy.

These lessons will be absolutely free. All that is necessary for you to obtain them, is to come to our store and signify your willingness by filling out an application blank.

Remember you will not be urged to buy anything, nor will you have to pay one single cent for these practical, interesting lessons. Each week one lesson will be ready for distribution; you will find yours waiting for you in an envelope addressed to you.

The subjects which will be taught will include:—The Nutritive Values of Various Foods and How to Prepare Them; there will be recipes for cooking dainty and practical dishes; they will suggest means of building up the children's minds and bodies; they will go into the question of what cuts of meats to buy; and in short, the information contained in these lessons will be so valuable, and of such every day use to every housewife in this city, that we believe that you will find it to your interest to accept our invitation to enroll your name in the BARSTOW FREE SCHOOL OF DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

As an example of what you may expect, we reproduce herewith a copy of Lesson No. 1.

The subject of Lesson No. 2 is "How to Preserve Grapes."

LESSON No. 1

In taking up the task of trying to teach the principles of domestic economy to women of this city, I feel a great responsibility. I have a keen appreciation of your needs and I think I will be able to show you, in many ways, how to effect small economies in your household expenses, and to show you how to make the dollars stretch to the fullest limits.

Now, while the money part of housekeeping is always the biggest item, no less important is the proper cooking of the food you place on the table for your family, so the lessons I am going to teach will take up in a simple way what to cook; how to cook it; what the nutritive values of the various kinds of foods are, and in short, I am going to cover during the next six months, as many phases of this interesting question as is possible.

I am going to start off the course with

"A SIMPLE BREAKFAST"

Orange Juice Oatmeal with Cream
Toasted Soft Cooked Eggs French Coffee

This delicious breakfast can be prepared with little trouble and expense. All the foods necessary for body and brain development are included in it.

By little trouble I do not mean that you can prepare this breakfast in five minutes time, nor do I mean that you will have to sit in the kitchen for two or three hours while the cereal is being prepared. I would suggest that you cook this the day before and when ready to serve in the morning just reheat. It would be wise to carefully select your coffee. In my own household experience, and in all classes I teach, I advise the use of a blend of Mocha and Java and which can be had at most grocers for about 25 cents a pound. As saving here is always followed by inferior coffee, and since coffee is so important a part of the enjoyment of a meal, it is hardly worth while to stint on just that one particular.

The following are the recipes for preparing the menu above outlined. Read over each menu carefully and see to it that you thoroughly understand what is wanted.

RECIPES

Oat Meal (H. O.) or Rolled Oats
1/2 Cup Rolled Oats
3/4 Cup Water
1/4 Cup Milk
1/2 Teaspoon Salt

METHOD—Stir one-half cup of rolled oats into the three-quarter cup of boiling, salted water. Let this cook in a double boiler for three hours. Lastly stir in the milk. If necessary to hasten the cooking of a cereal, boil it from 15 to 20 minutes directly over the flame, then finish cooking it in a double boiler.

SOFT-COOKED EGGS

Put water in a saucepan, let it come to a boiling point, lower the eggs into it with a spoon so as not to break them. See that there is plenty of boiling water to cover them. Remove at once from fire. Let them stand covered in this boiling water from eight to ten minutes, according to taste. This is the most digestible way of cooking eggs, as it coagulates the albumen without hardening it.

TOAST

Stale bread is preferable both for economy and quality. Cut the bread in slices about one-half inch thick, leaving the slices whole, and do not remove crusts, as this is the most healthful part of bread or toast. Lay bread on a toaster, hold over a bright flame, turning frequently so that it becomes an even brown on both sides. Toast may be buttered at once (better not to for health's sake). This may be done by melting butter in a saucepan and pouring it over toast (this is a more economical way than spreading the toast with butter).

FRENCH COFFEE (Enough for Four Cups)

1/2 Cup Ground Coffee
3 Cups Boiling Water

METHOD—Put the coffee in the strainer in French coffee pot. Place pot on back of stove. Gradually add the boiling water, half cup at a time, keeping the pot covered between times. The coffee may be poured through the strainer a second time, this makes it stronger.

BOGUS MARQUIS

Has Been Arrested as an Alleged Card Sharper

BERLIN, Sept. 15.—The "Marquis de la Ramee" has been arrested at The Hague at the request of the German family having died more than a century ago.

He is wanted here on charges of fraud, obtaining money by false pretenses, using a fictitious title and practicing card sharpening. When arrested the "Marquis" was living at a hotel with his wife and a number of servants. He attracted much attention from the other guests by frequenting the corridors and lounge in an ornate dressing gown. The police have discovered that his real name is Bela Klimm and that he is the son of a former lecturer at the Technical college at Budapest.

His father left him $20,000 when he was 18 years old. He soon became involved with a notorious card sharper named Hauer, who used him as a decoy to attract wealthy victims in Continental cities. Hauer, after winning $7,500 from Klimm in one night, generously remitted the debt on condition that Klimm would join the gang and utilize his good appearance to enter society. Hauer made a careful search for an informer's bill. He got deeper in debt.

Finally a man named Margolin, one of a gang of international swindlers, who was arrested two days ago in St. Petersburg for debts and forgeries amounting to $250,000, came to his aid. Margolin took an obscure address, wearing a thick veil, to the house of a well known money lender, where she pretended to be the widow of the late Millionaire Hecht. She signed a mortgage on Herr Hecht's property and the money lender advanced her about $50,000, which Margolin and Klimm shared, leaving the country together.

A number of people in good society have been swindled by Margolin and the "Marquis." The latter's trial will be one of the celebrated cases of the year. Much sympathy is felt for the luckless Alice Hecht.

NARROW ESCAPE

Aviator Harkness Near to Death

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Harry S. Harkness, the aviator of Cleveland and a member of a prominent family in that city, had a narrow escape from death today when the monoplane in which he was flying at Garden City, L. I. dived suddenly to the ground from a height of 25 feet. Harkness' machine was demolished, but he escaped injury.

This was Harkness' first flight in America. He has been known abroad for his feats in aviation and came to America to enter the elimination trials for the international aviation meet next month.

DIED SUDDENLY

LYNN, Sept. 15.—Elmer Humphrey, 44 years of age, superintendent of the General Electric company here, died suddenly today, his body being found in front of his home. The medical examiner who was called stated that death was due to enlargement of the heart. Mr. Humphrey was a prominent in social circles here.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 15.—Colonel P. H. Quinn of Warwick, who has been mentioned as a candidate for governor declined today to have his name come before the democratic state convention on Sept. 29 in a letter to Chairman F. H. Fitzsimmons of the state committee. Col. Quinn stated that in view of the party's victory in Maine a democratic nomination for governor of Rhode Island this year is equivalent to an election.

WHITNEY'S HORSE WON

GREAT YARMOUTH, Eng., Sept. 15.—The East Anglian plate of 150 sovereigns for three years and up, distance, one mile straight, was won today by H. Whitney's Newcastle II. Hartages was second and the Woodford colt third. Six horses ran.

CHOLERA CASES

ALMERIA, Spain, Sept. 15.—There are 14 suspected cases of cholera on board the coasting steamer Antelope, which arrived here today from Alexandria. The vessel has been isolated and the sick placed under observation.

MATRON ATTACKED BITTER FIGHTS

By Man Who Tried to Set Fire to Dormitory

ANDOVER, N. H., Sept. 15.—The police of every town and city in this section of New Hampshire are today searching for an unknown man who last night when baffled in his attempt to start a fire in the basement of the girls' dormitory at Proctor academy, here struck the matron, Mrs. Eugene Sawyer, over the head with a stick of wood and then escaped. Mrs. Sawyer lies today in a serious condition. Only a meagre description of the man was secured.

PRESIDENT TAFT

To Treat All Party Leaders on Same Footing

BEVERLY, Sept. 15.—Recognizing no difference between "progressives" and "regulars," but looking upon all as republicans, President Taft will treat all party leaders on the same footing hereafter. The president's views in the matter were expressed today in a letter written by Secretary Norton to a prominent republican leader of Iowa whose name was withheld.

In the letter Secretary Norton states that while pending republican legislation in congress was opposed by certain republican leaders, the president felt that his duty to the party and to the country required him to withhold federal patronage from those senators and representatives who seemed to be in opposition to the efforts of the administration to fulfill the promises of the party platform.

That attitude, however, ended with the primary elections and nominating conventions in which the people have declared themselves, and now the president looks upon the "progressives" and "regulars" only as republicans entitled to his support and support of the party. In future all will be treated alike and federal patronage will be restored to those from whom it was withheld.

Mr. Norton's letter to the Iowa leader follows:

"Beverly, Mass., Sept. 15, 1910.

"Your letters of the 9th are at hand and I have delayed replying until after the primaries. The president directs me to express to you and to your friends his deep appreciation of the work which you have done and the powerful assistance which you have extended to the administration from the beginning—an assistance that he contributed much to the legislative and other successes which have been secured. The president recognizes that your efforts have been wholly disinterested, that you have fought steadily and generously for what you believed to be his interest and the welfare and success of the party. While republican legislation pending in congress was op-

WANTS LETTER PUBLISHED

For the Benefit of Women Who Suffer from Female Ills

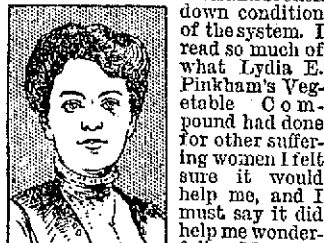

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me, I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. J. J. MORDAN, 2115 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from these distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

We never publish a testimonial letter without the special permission of the writer, and then only when we know it is genuine.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Was Fifty-three Years Old Today

BEVERLY, Sept. 15.—President Taft is 53 years old today. Many congratulatory letters and telegrams were received by the president at his home here, but there was no particular celebration of the occasion.

One of the window attractions in Merrimack Square is the display of a large tobacco plant, and its business size seems to attract almost everyone's attention.

The plant is in the furniture store of A. E. O'Brien & Co., and came from Mr. O'Brien's farm. Albert must be getting ready to have smoke talks over at the firm this winter, and judging from the plant the quality and quantity cannot be surpassed.

AT. ST. PETER'S HOLY NAME SOCIETY TO HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING

The meeting of St. Peter's Holy Name society tonight in the Fair hall promises to be an interesting session as several important matters will be considered. The plans for the fall and winter will be outlined at the meeting, and hence a big attendance is expected.

Arrangements for the communion day in October will also be made at tonight's session.

WORLD'S SERIES

MAY NOT BEGIN BEFORE 16TH OF OCTOBER

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 15.—Chairman Herrmann of the national commission said yesterday that he had practically given up hope of seeing the world's baseball series begin before Oct. 15, the day after the St. Louis Nationals and Chicago Cubs are scheduled to play the last game of the season.

Two weeks have passed since the national commission instructed President Lynch to meet with President Murphy of the Cubs and President Robison of St. Louis and attempt to induce them to arrange their schedule so that the world's series could be started a week earlier. Lynch has made no progress and as several games which were to have been played by the Cubs and St. Louis have been postponed on account of bad weather since that time there is hardly a chance of an arrangement being made which will permit the world's series to be played at an earlier date than the present schedule will allow.

THE FIGHTER

HILLIARD BOOTH'S NEW PLAY PRESENTED SUCCESSFULLY

DETROIT, Sept. 15.—George Fawcett presented at the Garrick theatre here last night a new play entitled "The Fighter," by Hilliard Booth, being a dramatic version of Albert Payson Terhune's novel, "Caleb Coker."

It is a play with a big theme, dealing with the political struggle between reform as represented by the people and the machine as represented by the bosses.

For years Caleb Coker has been the boss of a middle west city. He makes the epitaph of Clove Standish, leader of the Reform league, and the battle for supremacy between the two men furnishes the main incidents of the four acts of the virile play. Mr. Fawcett's characterization is an excellent one. He is fast establishing himself as one of the leading male stars of the American stage.

The production is made under the direction of the Messrs. Shubert. The piece is slated for an early New York hearing.

GOVERNMENT CROP REPORTS WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Government crop reports for October will include one on Monday, October 3rd, at noon showing the condition of the cotton crop on September 26th, as estimated by the department of agriculture, and one on the same date from the census bureau, giving the first gleaners report of actual cotton ginned. The report on the condition of cotton will be the last regular cotton condition report of the season. The estimate of total production will be made in December.

On Monday, October 20th, at 2:30 p. m., there will be issued by the department of agriculture a crop summary as follows:

Condition, either on October 1 or at the time of harvest, of corn, buckwheat, potatoes, tobacco, flax seed, apples, rice, yield per acre, total production, (preliminary estimate) and quality of spring wheat, oats and barley.

A supplementary report will be issued on Tuesday, October 11, giving a review of the crop situation as of October 1, which will include crops not included in the report of the previous day.

PAPAL NUNCIO RETURNS

MADRID, Sept. 15.—Mgr. Vico, the papal nuncio at Madrid, returned from Seville after a month's stay at the summer resort and with his reappearance in the capital the organization of the clerical campaign against Premier Canalejas is proceeding with renewed activity.

Great preparations under the direction of the priests are being made for the inauguration of a series of manifestations and meetings of protest to be held throughout the country on Oct. 2, the day before the cortes reassembles.

Particular care will be taken that the meetings assume a patriotic and peaceful character. Hostility toward the premier is growing in court circles, many of the ladies of the court having already signified an intention to remain in retirement as long as Premier Canalejas continues in power.

THE WOLF

Manager Ward of the opera house today received the following testimonial as to the merit of tonight's show, "The Wolf":

Lawrence, Mass., Sept. 14, 1910. Mr. Ralph A. Ward, Mgr. Lowell Opera House, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: We played "The Wolf" here tonight and I am pleased to say that the performance was the best I have ever witnessed of this great play and gave splendid satisfaction to our audience.

Yours very truly, Geo. W. Unlougher, Mgr. Lawrence Opera House.

BOSTON'S MAYOR

Is Vice Commodore of U. S. Aero Reserves

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Mayor Fitzgerald today accepted the office of vice commodore of the New England states of the recently organized United States aeronautical reserves, tendered him by John Barry Ryan of New York, commodore of the reserves. The society which hopes to include in its ranks every aviator in this country intends to be closely related to the United States government and the services of its members are planned to be at the disposal of the government in time of war.

Mayor Fitzgerald today stated that he believed it the duty of all public men to do everything in their power to help the movement along.

Prof. Abbott Lawrence Hatch, president of the Harvard aeronautical society, today accepted the position of captain of the Massachusetts reserves of the United States aeronautical reserves.

WORLD'S SERIES

MAY NOT BEGIN BEFORE 16TH OF OCTOBER

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 15.—Chairman Herrmann of the national commission said yesterday that he had practically given up hope of seeing the world's baseball series begin before Oct. 15, the day after the St. Louis Nationals and Chicago Cubs are scheduled to play the last game of the season.

Two weeks have passed since the national commission instructed President Lynch to meet with President Murphy of the Cubs and President Robison of St. Louis and attempt to induce them to arrange their schedule so that the world's series could be started a week earlier. Lynch has made no progress and as several games which were to have been played by the Cubs and St. Louis have been postponed on account of bad weather since that time there is hardly a chance of an arrangement being made which will permit the world's series to be played at an earlier date than the present schedule will allow.

THE FIGHTER

HILLIARD BOOTH'S NEW PLAY PRESENTED SUCCESSFULLY

DETROIT, Sept. 15.—George Fawcett presented at the Garrick theatre here last night a new play entitled "The Fighter," by Hilliard Booth, being a dramatic version of Albert Payson Terhune's novel, "Caleb Coker."

It is a play with a big theme, dealing with the political struggle between reform as represented by the people and the machine as represented by the bosses.

For years Caleb Coker has been the boss of a middle west city. He makes the epitaph of Clove Standish, leader of the Reform league, and the battle for supremacy between the two men furnishes the main incidents of the four acts of the virile play. Mr. Fawcett's characterization is an excellent one. He is fast establishing himself as one of the leading male stars of the American stage.

The production is made under the direction of the Messrs. Shubert. The piece is slated for an early New York hearing.

GOVERNMENT CROP REPORTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Government crop reports for October will include one on Monday, October 3rd, at noon showing the condition of the cotton crop on September 26th, as estimated by the department of agriculture, and one on the same date from the census bureau, giving the first gleaners report of actual cotton ginned. The report on the condition of cotton will be the last regular cotton condition report of the season. The estimate of total production will be made in December.

On Monday, October 20th, at 2:30 p. m., there will be issued by the department of agriculture a crop summary as follows:

Condition, either on October 1 or at the time of harvest, of corn, buckwheat, potatoes, tobacco, flax seed, apples, rice, yield per acre, total production, (preliminary estimate) and quality of spring wheat, oats and barley.

A supplementary report will be issued on Tuesday, October 11, giving a review of the crop situation as of October 1, which will include crops not included in the report of the previous day.

PAPAL NUNCIO RETURNS

MADRID, Sept. 15.—Mgr. Vico, the papal nuncio at Madrid, returned from Seville after a month's stay at the summer resort and with his reappearance in the capital the organization of the clerical campaign against Premier Canalejas is proceeding with renewed activity.

Great preparations under the direction of the priests are being made for the inauguration of a series of manifestations and meetings of protest to be held throughout the country on Oct. 2, the day before the cortes reassembles.

Particular care will be taken that the meetings assume a patriotic and peaceful character. Hostility toward the premier is growing in court circles, many of the ladies of the court having already signified an intention to remain in retirement as long as Premier Canalejas continues in power.

THE WOLF Manager Ward of the opera house today received the following testimonial as to the merit of tonight's show, "The Wolf":

PASTOR ARRESTED

HE IS CHARGED WITH OBSTRUCTING THE SIDEWALK

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 15.—William T. Brown, former pastor of the Unitarian church, but now a socialist, was arrested here last night while speaking on the street and charged with obstructing the sidewalk. A few weeks ago attacks on the United States army by socialist labor speakers angered soldiers from Fort Douglas and almost precipitated a riot. Chief of Police Barlow thereupon issued an order forbidding street meetings without permits. Deference of this order by the socialist labor propagandists has led to a number of arrests. Rev. Mr. Brown resigned the pastorate of his church to devote his time to socialist propaganda.

POLICE OFFICER

WAS DISMISSED FROM THE SPRINGFIELD DEPARTMENT

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 15.—Chief Henry S. Phelps yesterday dismissed from the service of the police department Patrolman Charles W. Hunter, bicycle officer, charging that he demanded and accepted certain exactions from auto folks whom he accused of exceeding the speed limit. For several weeks, it is alleged by Chief Phelps, autoists have been complaining that Hunter accused them of exceeding the speed limit and then entered certain questionable negotiations. Investigation resulted in Chief Phelps demanding that Hunter resign and return his badge and other equipment. Hunter did some excellent service protecting the market gardeners against thieves and the announcement of his dismissal is a big surprise.

ANNUAL FAIR

GEORGE TRULL President M. N. A. S.

THE MIDDLESEX NORTH AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY FAIR

Of the Middlesex North Agricultural Society Opened Today

The 54th annual fair of the Middlesex North Agricultural society, with Billerica Grange, was opened today at the town hall in Billerica. As a general rule the attendance on the morning of the first day is rather small, but this year proved to be an exception for several hundred people were on hand during the morning hours and the dinner which was served at noon was well patronized.

The town hall was a very lively place during the morning hours as the exhibitors were busily engaged in arranging their various offerings and the hall did not take on a neat appearance until early in the afternoon.

There was a fine display of vegetables, fruit, poultry, fancy work, etc., to say nothing of the farrowing implements and other necessities about the farm.

The grange exhibits and display of vegetables, fruits, flowers and fancy work were in the main hall, the poultry and eggs in the basement, and the cattle show will be held tomorrow in the field in the rear of the town hall.

Among the most attractive exhibits are those by Billerica and Dracut granges. In each exhibit there is a fine selection of vegetables and fruits, while mounted on the top of the Dracut grange exhibit is a floral plough made by James J. McManis of this city.

Displayed on large tables are individual exhibits of fruit and vegetables, also embroidery work, dollies, crocheting, brass work, burned wood, crazy patch work, braided rugs, sofa pillows, crocheted and hand painted, and various other fancy articles.

One of the pleasing features of the exhibition is the display of beans, corn and other things by the children of the various schools in the north district of the county, the best display being made by the children of Tewksbury, North Reading, Tyngsboro and Dracut.

Down in the basement is the poultry exhibit which is one of the best ever offered at a fair in this vicinity. Mr. A. C. Smith, proprietor of the Grove Hill poultry yards of Waltham, Mass., will be the judge and no prize will be awarded to birds scoring less than 50 points.

One of the most prominent birds in the poultry exhibition is a white faced black Spanish cock exhibited by S. C. Job of Carlisle.

There was a large attendance of people during the afternoon though there were many who arrived in time to enjoy one of those old fashioned home dinners, which was served in the banquet hall on the first floor.

Shortly after 2 o'clock there was an exhibit of driving, family, matched and die and farm horses, after which was fancy work.

the presentation of the ponies, which included Shetlands, single ponies, pairs and saddle animals.

This evening the exhibition hall will be open and between 8 and 10 o'clock Hibbard's orchestra will furnish pleasing music.

Thomas Varnum of this city is to be the judge of the vegetables, while Edward Perham of Chelmsford will award the prizes for bulls and fat cattle. John Peabody of Dracut will judge the swine.

Mrs. A. J. Trull of Tewksbury, Mrs. Thomas Varnum of this city and Mrs. John E. Foster of Tewksbury are to be the judges of the household articles and upon the market fair, and for the past

Isaac Damon of Wayland is the judge of the grange exhibits.

One of the interesting exhibits at the fair is a new lime and fertilizer distributor invented, the work of three well known Billerica men, George P. Greenwood, his son, O. P. Greenwood, and C. L. Burton. These men are now organized the Greenwood-Burton Manufacturing Co., with the intention of adding an industry to Billerica.

Mr. Greenwood, senior, is a practical farmer, and a prominent member of the grange. Like most farmers, he knows wherein the fertilizer distributors now and upon the market fair, and for the past few years he has been experimenting with the result that now he has a distributor that has been demonstrated upon Mr. Greenwood's own farm. Not to go into the description in detail, it consists of a box with a movable bottom and so adjusted that when the axle turns in a forward direction it rises, and the fertilizer is thrown out at any rate desired per acre, a roller at the top of the box revolving in a counterclock direction and forcing fertilizer of any description broadcast over the back.

Mr. Greenwood says that his invention will distribute any quantity from 100 to 4000 pounds per acre, and with mathematical accuracy. In changing from one quantity to another it is only necessary to alter the position of a set screw. It performs with dry or wet material.

One of the features of tomorrow's program will be the sports which will be pulled off in the afternoon. The events include a Marathon, one mile run 500 yards run, 100 yards dash, running broad jump, pole vault, 100 yards dash for girls 15 and under; tug-of-war for boys of Pollard and Talbot schools; shoe race for boys 12 years and under; four race for boys 12 and under; prize race for girls 15 and under and a pony race. The officials in charge of the races are as follows: Judges, Alex. H. Mitchell, J. Harold Dale, P. Frank Lyons; timers, Everett S. Bull, Herbert F. Jacobs; starter, John H. Verrier; announcer, Warren Dutton; racecar, Wilbur Bull.

In the morning there will be an exhibit of draft horses singly and in pairs. At 11 o'clock there will be an exhibit of working oxen and at noon dinner will be served.

During the early part of the afternoon there will be a concert by the Chelmsford brass band, the prize baby show will be held at two o'clock and at 2.30 o'clock there will be a horse race. One of the novelties of this race is that a prize will be awarded to the slowest horse.

At eight o'clock a grand ball will be held in the hall under the dancing being furnished by Hibbard's orchestra.

One of the busiest men at the fair is George W. Trull, the president of the Middlesex North Agricultural society and he is ably assisted by Secretary Andrew Laddell and Treasurer John A. Weinbeck.

HELD A SOCIABLE A well attended and very successful sociable was held at the Pawtucket Congregational church last night. It was the first of the fall sociables. One act drama, "The Wrong Miss Mather," was presented and everybody enjoyed it. The principal parts were taken by the Misses Helen Mansfield, Helen Bellamy, Ida Cummings, Fanny Irving, Elsie Cameron and Luella Conley. The chairman of the supper committee was Miss E. C. Colburn and Miss Grace Mansfield was chairman of the entertainment committee.

WALTER E. GUYETTE, Auctioneer Office, Rooms 77-78 Central Block, 53 Central St. Tel. 2415.

Saturday, Sept. 17th, 1910, at 3 O'Clock P. M. POSITIVE SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION OF A 7-ROOM HOUSE AND ABOUT 3254 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT NO. 1098 BRIDGE ST., CORNER OF BILLINGS.

I have placed in my hands to sell at absolute auction sale this cottage house directly on the Bridge street and Dracut Centre line of electric. The house has seven rooms, besides bath, pantry, hot and cold water, gas and sewer connections. There are about 3254 sq. feet of land with a frontage of 50 feet on Bridge street and about 60 feet on Billings. The house is in very good repair and is surrounded by shrubbery and beautiful lawn which makes it a most attractive home. Inasmuch as the property is situated on a corner one receives the sun during the entire day. It is within 15 minutes walk of Merrimack square and close to churches, schools, and just far enough away to remove all objections. If you are thinking of buying a home and wish to be in a first-class neighborhood, be sure to attend this sale, as it is just what you have been looking for.

Terms: $200 to be deposited with the auctioneer as soon as the property is struck off.

W. E. GUYETTE in charge.

NECK BROKEN

MAN FATALLY INJURED BY FALL INTO WELL

MAYNARD, Sept. 15.—Abraham Allen, aged 73, a prominent G. A. R. man of this town, was instantly killed late yesterday afternoon by falling down a dry well on the former site of an old paper mill here.

Mr. Allen was walking in the vicinity of the well and it is thought he stumbled over a loose stone and fell head foremost into the opening. His neck was broken by the fall.

Mr. Allen had an especially good war record, having served from 1861 to 1866 in a Massachusetts regiment.

He was a member of Isaac Davis post, G. A. R.
